STATE'S FINANCES IN SERIOUS SHAPE, GOV. BAKER ADMITS

County Assessors' Association Told Missouri Needs Money—February Payroll Lacks Funds.

EXECUTIVE ALTERS HIS POINT OF VIEW

Last November When Treasurer Predicted Deficit He Said He Saw "No Cause for Alarm."

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 25.—The financial condition of the State is serious, and steadily is growing worse, Gov. Baker stated in an address today before the County Assessors' Association of Missouri, in session here. He urged the assessors to put as much property as possible on the tax books, not only to provide equitable taxation, but because "the State needs the money."

Baker declared it soon would be impossible to conduct the affairs of the State as now carried on with the revenues now available. In his admission of the present condition of Missouri finance, the Governor has materially altered his position from the stand he took last November, when State Treasurer C. E. Stephens predicted the Baker administration would be facing a deficit of between $2,500,000 and $5,000,000 by the end of 1926.

At that time Baker said "I am talking about, but I see no emergency and no cause for alarm." The Governor then stated he believed there was plenty of money to run the State, and that there was enough that he probably would be able to release some appropriations that had been held up. He admitted he had no figures on which to base his conclusions. Baker has repeatedly declared he would call a special session of the Legislature.

Payroll May Be Delayed. The State Treasurer today said it was doubtful whether the State would be able to pay the $200,000 salaries payable for February, which it falls due Saturday, because of the depleted condition of the general revenue fund. The payroll may have to be held over a week or more, it was said.

In this connection, the State Auditor still is holding up about a quarter of a million dollars in bills that were carried over from January because there was no money available during February to pay them.

Included is $100,000 in appropriation of the private car tax, that has been due public school districts for several months. To this accumulation will be added the February bills. The monthly tax and payroll average about $100,000.

"With the ever growing cost of government and decreasing revenue caused by drastic reductions in taxes and reduced valuations sustained by the State Board of Equalization, the State faces a serious financial situation," Baker said.

Tax Levies Reduced. The Governor recalled that tax levies were reduced by the 1921 Legislature, which was the first legislative session during the Hyde-Republican administration. The property tax was reduced from 15 cents to 7 cents on the $100 assessed valuation. The State income tax rate was reduced from 1 1/2 per cent to 1 per cent and the corporation franchise tax rate reduced 50 per cent. The property tax rate again was cut to 5 cents in 1925. These reductions resulted in the decreases in revenue and caused the present situation, the Governor said.

He did not discuss the increase in assessed valuations made since 1921, when the former fractional assessment plan was abandoned, and an effort made to put 100 per cent assessments on all property. That was one of the factors in the tax rate reductions by the 1921 Legislature. Since 1921 the total assessment of property in Missouri has increased each year, although the Board of Equalization has made reductions in farm land assessments.

These reductions for the rural sections of the state have been more than offset by increases in city and public utility property.

Forecast of the present financial straits of the State were made during the 1925 Legislature, and Gov. Baker included bills increasing the State income, property and corporation franchise taxes in his administration program. He made an aggressive fight for these bills and they did not even reach the floor of passage by the Republican majority.

HOUSES UNROOFED BY WIND, TREES UPROOTED IN INDIANA

Warsaw and Vernon Report Heavy Damage by Gale—Velocity 50 Miles an Hour.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 25.—Indiana was swept by a gale early today that followed torrential rains and caused considerable damage. Officials of the United States Weather Bureau here said the gales resulted from a cyclonic disturbance over a 1000-mile area with Grand Rapids, Mich., in the center.

A 50-mile an hour wind swept Indiana this morning, lopping, toppling and blowing down awnings and signs. Batesville, Ind., near Cincinnati, also reported a 50-mile wind.

Evansville reported a 50-mile wind from the southwest. Louisville, Ky., had a 60-mile wind, also from the southwest.

Vernon, Ind., reported that houses were unroofed, chimneys torn down and trees and poles uprooted.

Warsaw, Ind., reported heavy damage.

MOTHER GIVES UP SON TO LAW

Extreme Penalty for Youth, It Found Guilty, Is Death.

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 25.—Rather than see him hunted man all of his life, Mrs. Mary Bailey of Houston gave her son, John, 17 years old, into custody of the law here, even though he faces trial on a charge for which the extreme penalty is death—criminal assault.

The boy had been a fugitive from justice since Jan. 19, when a 17-year-old girl charged him with rape. The other two were arrested. John fled to New Orleans. He returned yesterday.

NINE U. S. RAIDS IN PLAN TO DRY UP MADISON COUNTY

Federal Agents Under Deputy Barker Go Out of Own Territory to Confiscate 11 Stills.

THREE MEN HELD, WARRANTS SOUGHT

Five Others, Including Woman, to Be Named in Charges—Activity Due to Murders.

Continuing their concerted campaign to dry up the sources of liquor in Madison County from which alcohol is being distributed to St. Louis and the south and west, Federal agents under Deputy Prohibition Administrator Barker yesterday made nine raids in Granite City and Madison.

During the afternoon they seized and destroyed eleven stills ranging from 15 to 200 gallons daily capacity. A thousand gallons of whiskey, 6000 gallons of mash and 500 gallons of wine were seized, three men arrested and warrants will be asked today for four other men and a woman.

Deputy Administrator Barker and his men are attached to the office of Prohibition Administrator Louis H. Breuer at St. Louis and were working out of their jurisdiction in the southernmost county of the Chicago district when they invaded Madison County for a series of raids several times in the past ten days.

The decision to try to clean up the county was made by the St. Louis office after the inquest into the deaths of Constable Ohmer Hockett and John Kalke, whose bodies were found in a grave in Madison County moonshining plant on Feb. 5 last.

Told of Protection. During the inquest several witnesses testified of official protection of stills and soft drink bars as a matter of course and one bootlegger specifically declared that he had paid two constables for protection.

At this time it became known that while Madison County officers were inactive in stamping out liquor traffic, the Federal agents working under Deputy Administrator Madison at Springfield were seldom in the county to make raids.

Faced with this condition, which had resulted in the growth of a huge source of liquor at the door of the St. Louis district, local officers decided to see what they could do. On each raid in Madison County they have been accompanied by one agent from the Springfield office.

Two of the raids were in Granite City, seven in Madison. All of the stills in the latter group were in homes within a radius of half a mile from the business district of Madison.

At 825 L street, Madison, the agents found a 50-gallon daily capacity still, 850 gallons of mash and 75 gallons of whiskey. The occupant, who said he was Tom Majuski, was arrested.

At 833 Greenwood avenue, Madison, 30 gallons of whiskey, two 50-gallon stills and 700 gallons of mash were found and two men who identified themselves as Gus Salomon and Theodore Annis, arrested.

Woman Restrained. Mrs. Anna Kowalski was restrained by two agents in her home at 908 Alton avenue, Madison, while the other raiders smashed a 16-gallon still in the living room and dumped 250 gallons of mash and two gallons of whiskey on the ground. Several children were in the house at the time. A warrant will be asked for her.

Just a few doors away at 913 Alton street the agents found three stills of 50, 150 and 200 gallons daily capacity. The tenant of the place had fled, abandoning 1300 gallons of mash and 100 gallons of whiskey.

At 918 L street, a few doors from Majuski's home, a 50-gallon still, 1450 gallons of mash and 50 gallons of whiskey were destroyed. The tenant had fled.

Similarly, the tenants were gone from 1024 State street, Madison, where the agents found a 100-gallon still, and 1000 G street, where they seized a 75-gallon still, 50 gallons of whiskey and 225 gallons of mash.

Raids in Granite City. Moving north to Granite City the agents raided the home of John Pappas at 1428 Wash street, where they reported finding a 15-gallon still, 15 gallons of whiskey and 250 gallons of mash. In the same block, at the home of Paul Ciska, 1416 Wash street, they seized 100 gallons of mash, for looting the bank.

Plan to Replace New York Surface Cars With Busses

Proposed Merger Would Eliminate Trolley Lines in Manhattan and Reduce Number in the Bronx.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Elimination of trolley lines from the streets of Manhattan and a reduction in the number of surface car routes in the Bronx is possible as a result of the proposition submitted to the city yesterday for a system of bus lines to be operated by a merger of the New York Railways Corporation (the Green Trolley Line) and the Fifth Avenue Coach Co., which operates Fifth Avenue busses.

This was admitted by John A. Ritchey, president of the New York City Omnibus Corporation, today, when he said he expected other companies to come into the new corporation. Elmer Schlesinger, one of the directors, added that this was only the first step in the elimination of street railways. Ritchey pointed to the success of busses in St. Louis as an indication of what might be expected in New York.

Schlesinger made clear that bondholders of the New York Railways Co. would be protected. valuation has been set on the properties it is proposed to abandon, amounting to $5,400,000. This will be amortized in 25 years.

Yesterday's proposal would wipe out immediately the Sixth, Seventh and Columbus avenue street car lines over at least a considerable portion of their routes and cross-town lines on Eighth, 116th, Delancey and Spring streets.

Under the plan, the New York Railways Co. would surrender its perpetual franchise on these streets.

In return the city would grant a five-year bus franchise to the New York City Omnibus Corporation, an amalgamation of the Green Lines with the Fifth Avenue Coach Co.

At the end of that time the city might take over the lines and own and run them municipally.

Conditions Unlike Those in U. S.

Says Foreign Ministers Who Limit Activities to Task of Superintendence Are Not Molested.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The New York World today publishes a long dispatch from President Calles of Mexico explaining the expulsion by Mexico of foreign-born priests preachers and teachers which has been discussed in recent news dispatches. The dispatch, in response to an invitation by the World, is as follows:

By PRESIDENT P. ELIAS CALLES. Copyright, 1926, by the Press and Tribune Publishing Co., (New York World and Tribune).

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 25.—Paragraph 8 of Article 130 of the Mexican Constitution states: "To exercise in the United States of Mexico the ministry of any cult it is necessary to be a Mexican by birth." The "foreign priests whose presence in Mexico is no longer being tolerated had been flouting this constitutional provision with full consciousness of their misdoing."

On various occasions they had received warnings from the Department of the Interior to cease exercising their ministry and dedicate themselves to some other activity if they were desirous of remaining in this country. Without paying any attention to these notifications the priests to whom I refer continued exercising their ministry in violation of Article 130 of the Constitution. In addition almost all of them were violating Article 3, which provides in paragraph 2 that "No religious corporation or minister of any cult will be permitted to establish or superintend primary schools."

No Animus Toward Foreigner. For this reason and without such measure signifying religious persecution for any church and even less indicating a sentiment of animosity toward any foreigner—a Government which is desirous of complying with its constitutional obligations would have no other course than to oblige the constant violators of its fundamental law to leave the country.

In contrast with the attitude of the expelled priests there have been numerous ministers of other cults who have obeyed the constitutional provisions. They have dedicated themselves to other legal activities, such as teaching secondary schools or to orienting or superintending suitable activities of their church, but without exercising their offices in ritualistic acts and leaving in Mexican ministers the performance of the strictly confessional work of their religion. These ministers have not and will not be molested.

As invariably occurs when Mexican questions are under consideration, an effort has been made to distort the facts. The people of the United States are asked to believe that a simple question of obedience to and respect for the fundamental law of our country involves a campaign of religious persecution which would necessarily be repugnant and almost inexplicable in a country such as the United States, in which, fortunately, ecclesiastical and religious matters have always been absent from civil and political legislation. In the United States the religious have ruled pacifically in the moral sphere, and as yet have not complicated governmental affairs by the least mixing of spiritual things with temporal things nor by going out of their legitimate sphere of action to invade the political field.

Convent Schools. Another instance of distortion of the facts during these days has been the declaration that numerous private schools in Mexico have been closed. What has in reality occurred is that upon the discovery of convents, whose existence is not authorized by the laws in force, there have been found annexed primary schools, contrary to the provisions of Article III of the Constitution. These schools have not been closed, but obliged to make their status conform to the afore-said provisions.

Even if the recent public display of disobedience and opposition to the laws of the country were to be considered a crime, it would be a crime of the same nature as the crime of disobedience to the laws of the United States.

THOMAS F. LAWRENCE SUED FOR DIVORCE

Former Insurance Official, Arrested in Chicago Hotel, Enters Order of Appearance.

Mrs. Lyn Fernald Lawrence today sued to divorce Thomas Fisher Lawrence, former vice president of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co., who was arrested last Aug. 14 in a Chicago hotel with Mrs. Julia Gruner of St. Louis, at the instigation of Mrs. Lawrence.

Mrs. Lawrence, in her petition, states they married June 8, 1919, and separated Aug. 12, last, when he left to go to Chicago on business. She charges adultery, and that she was the victim of a "stunt" by Lawrence and Gruner. Mrs. Lawrence was arrested at the Lake Shore Drive Hotel after Mrs. Lawrence led moral officers to the hotel. In Missouri Court, Lawrence and Mrs. Gruner were sentenced to 30 days in jail but were later let off on payment of a $100 fine each. Lawrence then resigned his post with the insurance company.

Mrs. Lawrence's suit was filed by the firm of Russell & Long, which declined to state her present address. Lawrence, through his attorney, entered an appearance and it was indicated that a substantial alimony allowance would be made without contest. The Lawrences formerly lived at 8887 Pershing avenue.

WOMAN IDENTIFIES BODY OF LONG MISSING BROTHER

The body of a man found dead in a room at 1124 Morgan street was identified last night by Mrs. Minnie Offner, 805 Allen avenue, as that of her brother, Henry Heuser, 52 years old, whom she had not seen for 14 years. A slip of paper in Heuser's pocket bore Mrs. Offner's name and address. Heuser's body was found yesterday morning. Other roomers said he became ill about a week ago and a physician who called on Tuesday pronounced him suffering with double pneumonia. The physician promised to return yesterday, but failed to appear, she said.

SAYS COMPANY FAILED TO PAY OFF FOR 18 MONTHS

Promoter, in Deposition, Declares Lumber Firm's Camp Workers Had to Eat Cracked Corn.

ASSETS SOLD TOO LOW, HE STATES

Edwin R. Butler Has Admitted Failing to Set Aside Fund From Receiver's Certificates.

For a period of 18 months, in 1922 and 1923, the payrolls of the now defunct Forked Leaf White Oak Lumber Co. were not met, resulting in numerous hardships to its 250 employees and their families. The only pay received by the workers during this time was an occasional small sum, usually $2 or $3, after a sale of lumber.

Frequently during this period cracked corn, which had been shipped to the lumber camp to be sold to the company's mules, was ground into corn meal for human consumption after the lumbermen had pleaded that "we've got to have something to eat before we can work."

On one occasion a carload of flour on a sidetrack at West Elmence, Mo., center of the lumber company's operations, was broken into by hungry workmen, who made away with more than half of the flour for use in making bread to go with their meager rations of "beans and beans."

Promoter's Testimony. Testimony of privation and suffering were a part of the testimony received by Edwin R. Butler, promoter and ousted Federal Court receiver of the lumber company, before Special Commissioner Irvine G. Mitchell. "The depositions were resumed today, with Butler again in the witness stand."

In June, 1924, Judge Paris declared that the company's failure to pay the most "abysmal" he had encountered, as assets reported to him by Butler as exceeding $500,000 had shrunk to an amount of less than $100,000. Butler, who was removed as receiver by Judge Paris July 9, 1925, after about one year in that capacity, contended at the hearing yesterday that his successor, James W. Byrnes, had disposed of the company's assets for a "staggering figure." There was sufficient lumber ready to be sold when he was removed to pay off the receiver's certificates, he stated, assuring that Byrnes sold it for considerably below its real value.

The witness also intimated that the price of about $65,000, which Byrnes got for some of the company's timber lands, was "much too low." Byrnes, who was asked the hearing declined to comment on Butler's statements, except to say that he sold all the properties at public sale, with the approval of the court. It was pointed out by Byrnes' attorney, Paul Baker, Jr., that Butler never was able to sell the property for what he considered it to be worth.

Three Issues Involved. Three issues are involved at the hearing, the principal one being the application of attorney for Thomas F. Whitmarsh, of 4614 Westminster place, holder of 568,720 of receivership certificates of the company, for permission to use Butler's surety, the National Surety Co., on its $25,000 bond. Whitmarsh is vice president and treasurer of the W. T. Ferguson Lumber Co., Arcade Building.

Other issues are the request of Byrnes' attorney, Walter R. Barnes, for Butler's discharge on the bond as receiver and the intervening petition of attorney Baker, requesting instructions for Byrnes' former Democratic majority candidate.

The principal contention of Whitmarsh is that the surety company is liable to the extent of the bond because of Butler's admitted failure to deposit 40 per cent of the proceeds of lumber sales in a St. Louis bank for retirement of the receivership certificates as required by Federal Judge Paris in granting Butler permission to issue $150,000 of receivership certificates to operate the company's properties. Only $115,000 of the certificates were sold. Most of them, besides those purchased by the Ferguson Lumber Co. and later resold to Whitmarsh, were taken by receivers in payment for common claims.

Grandmother Reaches Sick Child by Plane and Train

—By a Post-Dispatch staff photographer at Union Station.

Mrs. B. M. Halbert at Decatur, Ill., After Hurried Trip From San Angelo, Tex.— Youngster Improved by News of Coming.

Flying in an airplane through rainstorms and fog, and taking to automobiles and trains when darkness forced the craft down, Mrs. B. M. Halbert of San Angelo, Tex., arrived at Decatur, Ill., at noon today and was rushed to the bedside of her 8-year-old granddaughter, Betty Jo Bloodworth, who is critically ill of diphtheria.

When the airplane landed at the field at Port Worth, Tex., at 7:30 a. m. yesterday, Betty Jo was reported dying, but as the news of her grandmother's arrival spread, physicians said, wrought a marked improvement in her condition.

Only a heavy rainstorm and thick fog prevented Mrs. Halbert from reaching St. Louis yesterday afternoon by airplane and being with Betty Jo last night. Forced to turn northward toward Kansas City at the Missouri-Oklahoma line, her pilot had to land because of darkness at Foster, Mo., 500 miles from Port Worth, and she had to complete her journey by automobile and train.

Not Scared in Flight. She passed through St. Louis this morning, arriving on a Missouri Pacific train at 7:20 from Butler and departing on the Wabash at 8:30. Reporters found her in the coach train and she told of her flight, which she said was the start of the last part of her journey.

Mrs. Halbert is 50 years old, small, wiry, with snapping black eyes and a youthful vigor of gesture and carriage. Yesterday's airplane trip was her first venture of the air, but she discussed her experience with all the sangfroid of the veteran flyer.

"I wanted to get to Decatur quickly and an airplane looked like the only means at hand," she said. "So I took it. I wasn't scared a bit and I know we'd have been in St. Louis yesterday afternoon if not for the conditions that had been met."

The need for speed, she explained, was caused by the urgent telegram from Betty Jo's father, the Rev. Lloyd P. Bloodworth, that the child failed to rally from an antitoxin injection and was dying.

Her Story of Flight. "My husband agreed that I ought to take an airplane," Mrs. Halbert went on. "So he wired the Port Worth Chamber of Commerce to arrange for one and I took the train there from our place in San Angelo."

"Forty minutes after I had got to Port Worth I was in the air in an airplane piloted by H. F. Branch. I had never seen the pilot before, but he surely knew how to handle his plane. We took off at 7:30 a. m."

"We got to Ardmore, Ok., about 100 miles away in an hour, and landed there and, after taking off again, went across Oklahoma to Affton, in the northwest corner of the state, where we landed for gas and oil at 12:30."

"We were read to take of fargin in a few minutes, but before we could start, the engine quit. The pilot said the fog would make it dangerous to go over the Ozarks, so we headed north, intending to swing east when we passed it."

"But conditions became worse and worse. It began to rain from time to time and for the next three hours we went from one storm right into another. Around 4 o'clock we ran into a fog. We couldn't see the ground and once when we

BLASPHEMY CASE PROSECUTOR'S AID RECEIVES THREAT

"Remember, Attorney, if Bimba Is Not Sentenced, We Can Shoot," Says Letter on Brockton Trial.

By the Associated Press. BROCKTON, Mass., Feb. 25.—The trial of Anthony Bimba, Lithuanian editor and lecturer, on charges of blasphemy under a statute 229 years old, and sedition, is moving slowly in District Court.

A threatening letter, the second since the trial opened, was received today by Associate City Attorney Joseph M. Veronka, who is assisting in the prosecution of Bimba. The letter read in part: "Remember, attorney, if Bimba is not sentenced, we can shoot. Don't be a coward. There is a God. What about the rain, the sun and many other things? He is a fool that hates others to live, but Hoffman is with him. Let's have war."

The Hoffman referred to is Harry Hoffman, counsel for Bimba. The massive received yesterday threatened the Associate City Attorney with death if Bimba was convicted.

Another Threat Yesterday. John Holohan, prosecution witness today, testified that he was not offended by what Bimba said about God in his address in the meeting here, but that he felt Bimba exploited the people, who are "them innocents." He gave an emphatic "sure" when asked whether he believed priests did exploit the people.

"The main idea I took away," he said, "was that it couldn't be known there was any God, for science has not shown it yet or can."

Judge Traubitz testified that Bimba had said: "Popes, Cardinals, Bishops and priests are monarchs. Also they are democrats of people. They take people and turn them into monarchs. And what good do they do you?"

Carl Prozoa testified today that Bimba had said "Christ was just a plain man." "People have built churches and sweated and toiled and are 'them innocents' and there are 'words of fools who still believe in God.'"

Three Witnesses Testify. Three witnesses, put on the stand yesterday by the prosecution, testified that Bimba had said: "Christ was just a plain man." "People have built churches and sweated and toiled and are 'them innocents' and there are 'words of fools who still believe in God.'"

REALITY OF SERPENT OF EDEN AT ISSUE IN HERESY TRIAL

Dutch Pastor Says Tempter May Have Been an Animal, or Word May Mean "Devil."

By the Associated Press. ASSEN, Holland, Feb. 25.—The Rev. J. G. Geelkerken, on trial for heresy by the general synod of the Dutch Reformed Church, appeared before the synod for a verbal examination, the feature of which was the question whether he believed the serpent of the Biblical account of the temptation in the Garden of Eden was "a real creeping creature."

The question was asked yesterday because he is alleged to have cast doubt in a sermon on the Genesis story of Eve and the serpent. He replied that he believed what is recorded in Holy Writ, although he did not know how the term "serpent" should be interpreted.

He asserted that he believed the traditional interpretation of the Seccessionist Calvinist Church, namely, that it was a real animal, was quite possible, but he also admitted that he had believed that the serpent was a figurative representation of the devil.

The defendant, however, declined to commit himself on this point, on the ground that he was not expert on the Old Testament. He then demanded that he be fully rehabilitated in the church and that all pastors be given liberty of interpretation. He already has submitted a typewritten reply of 45 sheets to 19 questions submitted to him.

The Rev. Mr. Geelkerken has received many messages of sympathy from England, Germany and the United States.

have we got? Through prayers we get nothing. Still some people believe in God. The priests tell them there is a God somewhere above the clouds."

All witnesses agreed that Bimba in the first part of his speech discussed conditions in Lithuania, where he charged much suffering to the dominance of the clerical party.

The second part of his speech they said concerned conditions of labor in this country, where Bimba urged adherence to the Communist party as the only help for the workers. In reply to questions put to him at the meeting they agreed that Bimba said that the only flag he believed in was the red flag and that he would float in Kovno, Washington and over Lithuania in Brockton.

In the prosecution's bill of particulars it was set forth that a translation of remarks made by Bimba was "presses say that man has a soul; well, I have a sole in my shoe."

WALTER MCKITTRICK OBTAINS DIVORCE

Dry Goods Man Gets Decree in Few Minutes on Desertion Ground.

Walter McKittrick, vice president of the Ely & Walker Dry Goods Co., this afternoon obtained a divorce from Mrs. Marjorie Holland McKittrick from Circuit Judge Woodman at Clayton, a few minutes after filing suit.

He had as his attorney Clarence L. Wolff, Mrs. McKittrick, who was not in court, but filed an entry of appearance denying the allegations was represented by Sam W. Farley.

Testimony by McKittrick was brief, being merely a repetition of the charges. Appearing as character witnesses for him were H. J. W. Nichols, credit manager of Ely & Walker, and Julius C. Ziegler, an employee of the credit department. McKittrick is 54 years old and Mrs. McKittrick is 35.

Mother to Keep Children. Custody of their two children, Marjorie, 13 years old, and Alan, 11, was given the mother, the suit expressing willingness for this in view of their youth. It was provided the father should have the right to visit them and have visits from them at reasonable times. The daughter is attending a school at Aiken, S. C., and the son is in Fay School, Southborough, Mass.

The McKittricks were married here Jan. 24, 1912, and the plaintiff declared, his wife left their home Feb. 15, 1921, refusing to live with him longer. His frequent requests for her to return met with refusal, he declared. Having independent means of maintenance, he said, she has remained in the East with the children, spending a great deal of her time in New York.

Indignity Alleged. In addition to the direct allegation of desertion, the suit declared Mrs. McKittrick's conduct in leaving home constituted an indignity rendering her husband's condition intolerable.

McKittrick, who has had a home at 54 Westmoreland place, has been residing lately at the St. Louis Country Club.

Mrs. McKittrick, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Holland of 47 Westmoreland place, was married at Christ Church Cathedral. She had been graduated from the fashionable Dobbs Ferry School, New York, and traveled abroad extensively. McKittrick, a graduate of Harvard, formerly was vice president of the Hargadine McKittick Dry Goods Co., which ceased business in 1915. He has been in the dry goods business since leaving college in 1896.

McKinney said he was working for the company on a commission, and that he had no part in any fraudulent scheme or conspiracy. He was the first of those indicted in the case to appear.

GERK TELLS RECRUITS OF POLICE 'ENEMIES'

"Drink, Running Off at the Mouth and Women" to Be Avoided, Chief Says.

Defining a policeman's three worst enemies as "drink, running off at the mouth and women," Chief of Police Gerke, addressing a class of police recruits, today gave his definition of what a St. Louis policeman must not be and what he ought to be.

He must not, the chief said, in order to hold his job, associate with criminals, except as duty compels, use intoxicants, or accept any of "that damnable petty graft" which he said saps the keels of policemen and tradesmen. Always be gentlemen, remembering that everyone is entitled to courtesy until he forfeits that right. Engage in no political or religious controversies.

Accuracy in Reports Necessary. "The department demands loyalty, and that means you shouldn't go out and try to clean up a case to hog all the glory. Usually the criminal gets away. So take your superior officer into your confidence. Be accurate in your reports, many a lawsuit, criminal and civil, is decided by it. If a man says his name is 'John Smith' make him spell it out—it may be 'Smith' or 'Schmitt'."

"You are, in a sense, like the hotel clerk, greeting all strangers. When strangers ask you for information, give it intelligently and courteously. When you are asked where a certain place is located, don't just give the streets, tell the person how to get there."

Urges Use of Horse Sense. "The greatest mistake policemen make is they don't think. To properly discharge your duties, you don't have to do much thinking. If you run up against a perplexing problem, call in your superior. Use common horse sense."

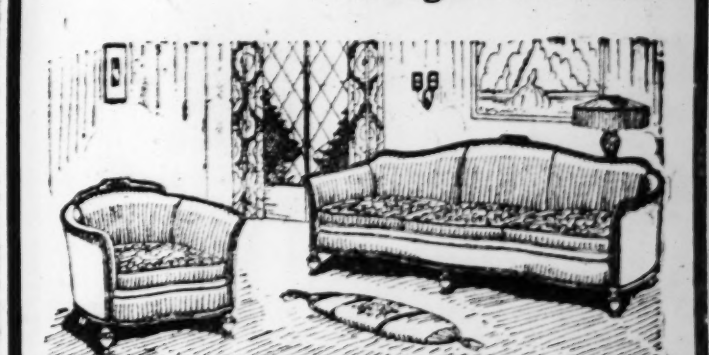

The recruits addressed numbered 57, of whom 28 will enter upon their duties as probationary patrolmen tomorrow, the remainder still undergoing training at the police school at the Magnolia Station, where the lecture was delivered. All are men in the twenties and thirties, the greater number appearing to be about in their middle twenties.

Bar on Export of Power Urged.
By the Associated Press.
QUENBET, Feb. 23.—Premier Taschereau is sponsoring a bill introduced in the Legislature, under the provisions of which the export of hydroelectric power produced in the Province of Quebec would be prohibited. The chief purpose of the bill is to prevent the export of power developed in Canadian territory to Canadian waters to the United States.

YOUNG WOMAN STRUCK BY AUTO DIES OF INJURIES

Miss Loretta Grady, 27,
Was Run Down Tuesday Night at Finney Avenue and Whittier Street.

Miss Loretta Grady, 27 years old, of 2224 McDonald avenue, died today at Deaconess Hospital of injuries suffered Tuesday night when she was struck by an automobile at Finney avenue and Whittier street.

She had attended an entertainment at St. Ann's Catholic Church, 424 Page boulevard, and was crossing Finney avenue at 9 o'clock when she was struck by a touring car driven east by Ernest Stoner, 24 a Negro of 4253 West Belle place.

She suffered fractures of the skull and left leg and died at 2:30 a. m. while doctors attempted an operation to relieve pressure on the brain. Stoner was arrested after the accident, released on bond and re-arrested after Miss Grady's death.

Miss Grady made her home with two sisters, Misses Nellie and Estelle Grady, and a brother, William. Both parents are dead, the mother having died but a few months ago.

Dies of Broken Back Suffered in Auto Accident.

Edgar Vogel, 21 years old, of St. Francis, Mo., died at St. John's Hospital at 8:20 p. m. yesterday from a broken back suffered six months ago in an automobile accident near his home.

Doctor and Wife Hurt by Taxi
When Crossing Street.

Dr. Claude Gavor, 24 years old, and his wife, Louise, 24, of 6245 Scanlan avenue, were seriously injured at 9:30 p. m. yesterday when struck by a taxicab as they attempted to cross Grand boulevard at Page. Witnesses said the chauffeur, John Falk, of 2411 Lucas avenue, passed other machines and started across the intersection while the automatic signal was at "traffic change." Dr. Gavor suffered possible skull fracture and Mrs. Gavor fractures of the left knee and ankle. Falk was arrested.

Mrs. Mary Trapp of Springfield, Ill., and her son, Joseph, 5 years old, were badly cut and bruised when an automobile driven by William Jynolia, 26, of 1410 Cass avenue, in which they were riding, overturned after colliding with the taxicab of John Stamm, 5104 Easton avenue, at Sheridan and Easton avenues last night. Mrs. Trapp is in St. Louis to visit her mother, Mrs. Mary Sittick, 24, of 1727 Park avenue, suffered fracture of the back last night when a taxicab in which she was riding collided with another automobile at Twentieth and Olive streets. At Missouri Baptist Sanitarium doctors pronounced her condition serious. The taxicab was driven by Douglas Howard of 2510 Franklin avenue. Wanda Atamancheck, 4, and her sister, Mary, 11, of 2112A South Fourth street were knocked down by an automobile driven by Anthony Boenigausen, 5519 Idaho avenue, when they ran from behind a northbound street car in front of 2123 South Broadway. They were badly cut and bruised driving while intoxicated, careless

TRAFFIC VIOLATOR PAROLED ON PLEDGE TO QUIT DRIVING

Accused of Intoxication, Man Blames Absence: Agrees to Surrender License for 6 Months.
Police Judge Beck today sentenced an automobile driver to the workhouse and paroled him on condition that he refrain from driving his automobile for six months. The defendant, Nick Koprivica, of 1101 South Thirtieth street, was charged with driving while intoxicated, careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident. On Jan. 30 his machine collided with another at Jefferson and Lafayette avenues and then continued south two blocks, striking a parked machine. He denied he had been drinking, stating that an abscess over his eye had caused him to become dizzy.

Koprivica paid a $50 fine and promised to appear Saturday and deposit his license plates with the court clerk. The charge of intoxication was continued to Saturday to insure his appearance.

method is legal, but in the circumstances it seems to be justly remarked the judge. "It will give the man opportunity to undergo an operation for his trouble before driving again."
2 Killed, 50 Hurt, in Movie Fire.
By the Associated Press.
NOVO NICHOLAEVSK, Russia, Feb. 22.—Two persons were burned to death, 50 others so burned that they probably will die and 20 seriously injured in a fire in a moving picture theater here. A short circuit started the fire, which caused a panic among the spectators.

Announcing— Metal Cabinet Frigidaire at New Low Prices

The new Frigidaire are equipped with either single or double-depth freezing trays, providing greater capacity for creams, ices, sherbets, salads and ice cubes.

You can have Frigidaire in your present ice-box. The "frost coil" left is placed in the ice compartment and the compressor below in the basement or other convenient location. Frigidaire mechanisms for this purpose cost as little as $190. J. B. Dayton, Co.

THE new metal cabinet Frigidaire are here! They offer, at their new low prices, the greatest of values in electric refrigerators. We invite you to visit our display room, see these new Frigidaire models, and learn what a wonderful service Frigidaire can render to your home.

You will be delighted with their beauty. They are built of steel—beautifully finished in enduring white Duco with bright metal trim—lined with heavy, seamless one-piece porcelain-enameled steel.*

And you can be sure, too, that they measure up to the best standards of Frigidaire construction. All of them are equipped with the Frigidaire mechanical units which are already rendering dependable and economical service to more than 100,000 users. All of them are insulated with solid corkboard.

Perhaps you will be especially interested in the Model M-5-2. It is built complete with metal cabinet, has ample food capacity for the average family, yet is small enough for apartment use. It can be moved as easily as an ordinary piece of furniture and its price is only $245, plus a small charge for freight and installation.

Or, you may want to see the Frigidaire frost coil which can be placed in your present ice-box, which is equivalent to four tons of ice a year, which never melts, and never requires any attention.

You will be interested, too, in the new arrangements of Frigidaire freezing trays, a choice of either deep or shallow trays for the freezing of large or small quantities of ices, sherbets, creams, and salads—for the provision of a constant and ample supply of ice cubes.

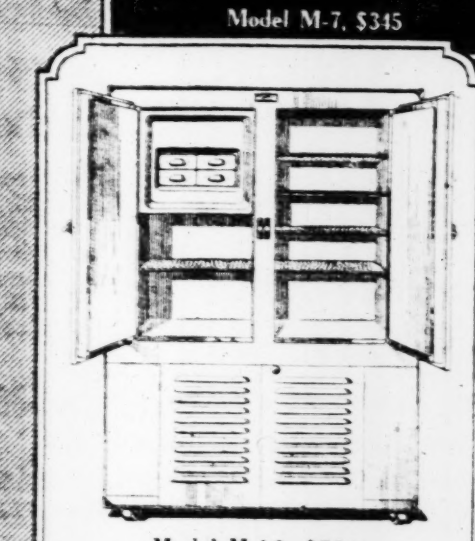

Be sure to visit our display room and see the new Frigidaire. You will find the model which will just fit the needs of your family—you will find its price surprisingly low—you will find that the GMAC payment plan makes it very easy to buy.

SCHOOL CHILDREN PLANNED
Board of Education Considers Devices Similar to Those for Union Boulevard.

Blinking street signals, to operate during school hours, and to remind motorists that they are approaching school buildings, are planned by the Safety Committee of the Board of Education, of which Stephen M. Wagner is chairman.

The plan being considered is to install similar devices to those which the Department of Streets and Sewers is to install on Union boulevard near Clark School and Selden High School.

WHEELER ASKS THAT SENATE INVESTIGATE KAROLYI CASE

Charges of Forgeries Involving Hungarian Minister Cited in Exclusion of Countess.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The Senate has been asked by Senator Wheeler (Dem.) of Montana, to investigate alleged activities by the Hungarian Minister to the United States to bring about the State Department's recent exclusion from this country of the Countess Karolyi.

Wheeler's resolution asserted that charges had been made that the Countess exclusion resulted from the forging of certain documents which tended to connect her with undesirable political organizations with which the United States was not on friendly terms. He charged that the Hungarian Minister paid a private detective agency $10,000 for inaccurate and false reports obtained through the hounding of the Count and Countess Karolyi, while on a visit in this country prior to the trip on which she was excluded.

The Wheeler resolution was referred to the Foreign Relations Committee, which now has under consideration a bill by Senator Borah to repeal the war-time law under which the Countess was excluded. The committee has invited Secretary Kellogg to appear before it to testify on this measure.

BORAH WILLING TO DEBATE COURT ISSUE WITH LENROOT

Concludes Three-Day Campaign
Convinced That People Are Against 'This Thing'

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Senator
William B. Borah of Idaho has concluded a three-day tour of Middle West campaign against entry into the World Court and departed for Washington.

The campaign into which he crowded five addresses at Chicago,
Milwaukee and Racine, Wis.,
he characterized as very satisfactory.

"It has," Borah declared, "been firmly my belief that the people are against this thing."

The Senator expressed willingness to debate the court question at Milwaukee with Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin if Senate affairs permit. Lenroot delivered a vigorous Washington birthday address in support of the nation's World Court entry in his home State, while Borah was in Chicago.

that Kennard's has established its reputation. Outside and inside, this is a real bargain.

Cushions are covered on one side and boxing with a good grade of Mohair... on other side with silk tapestry... and in the spring construction also there is an honesty of craftsmanship which makes the price of $197.50 one of the most notable of the whole year. Visit Kennard's early. Let us explain the features which make this price so attractive.

DOHENY LEASE BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Tribunal Is Asked to Review Decision Which Canceled Contract.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The Naval Oil Reserve controversy precipitated by the Senate Teapot Dome inquiry, has reached the United States Supreme Court. The first step in what promises to be protracted litigation before the court involves only civil questions affecting the legality of certain contracts and leases made while Albert B. Fall was Secretary of the Interior, but criminal proceedings now pending in the Federal courts here are expected to be put up to the Supreme bench for final decision.

Counsel for Edward L. Doheny, docketed a petition yesterday asking for a review of the recent decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals in the Government's suit to cancel contracts and leases made with the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport and the Pan-American Petroleum companies. Having no right of appeal under the present law, it was necessary for counsel to ask the court, in the exercise of its discretion, to grant permission to bring up the case.

Importance of Decision.
The petition, which will be brought to the attention of the court after it reconvenes March 1, emphasized the importance of a decision by the highest court on the authority of the Secretary of the Navy over the naval oil reserves under the act of Congress of June 4, 1909. Four suits are pending in the Federal District Court in Wyoming, the District Court in Wyoming, the Teapot Dome case, the Mammoth Oil Co. and the Sinclair Pipe Line Co., now pending before the Circuit Court of Appeals for argument at St. Paul next May.

The act was interpreted by the Federal Court in California as prohibiting the granting of leases and contracts made with the Doheny interests, the petition recited, while the Federal District Court in Wyoming, in the Teapot Dome case, placed a contrary construction upon the act, and held the Sinclair leases valid.

Question of Equity.
Frank J. Hogan, of counsel for Doheny, who docketed the petition, explained that the Supreme Court also was asked to determine the right of the United States to maintain suit in equity to cancel contracts and leases without itself doing equity. The Circuit Court of Appeals at San Francisco, he set forth, held that the Government could have the full benefit of all the improvements which had been made by the Doheny companies under the contracts and leases without paying for them.

There was complete lack of equity, he insisted, in this ruling. Under it, he declared, leases and contracts with the Doheny companies were declared in California to be invalid and were canceled, the defendants being required to refund to the Government $10,000,000 received in compensation for the improvements made at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

There also existed, the brief asserted, a conflict of opinion in the lower Federal Courts which must be removed, the Federal Courts in California having decided in the Doheny case that the Secretary of the Navy had no authority to make contracts for the exchange of "royalty" oil for storage facilities, while the Federal District Court in Wyoming, in the Sinclair case, had held to the contrary.

The California decision, counsel contended, would destroy the whole idea of an actual navy oil reserve, requiring the Government to use every barrel of oil and foot of gas taken from naval oil reserves, instead of storing any of it. A decision by the Supreme Court in the Doheny case, the brief said, would be controlling in the Sinclair litigation.

She Could Never Have Done It With Piles!

Bless the American girl who has glorified all the sports! She makes a pretty picture in the water, and is a plucky swimmer, too. Piles are unthinkable for active women. If you have them, you ought to know this simple thing to do!

At any hour or moment that you have the least distress or discomfort from piles, use a simple Pyramid pile suppository—and go happily on your way! The worst hemorrhoids, even bleeding and badly protruding piles respond at once to the soothing suppository applied in perfect privacy. But treat the name in mind, Pyramid is the one every druggist has, usually the only one he will sell his patron. Pyramid is marvelous. Why suffer another single hour with painful piles?

Sixty cents the box, the world around. But for proof, a free box please! Write to those who write Pyramid Drug Co., 200 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich. 200

TWO OLD PAINTINGS FOUND AND RESTORED

One Bears Evidence of Being Works of Raphael, Other of Moro.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—Michael J. Berdinkoff, an expert in the restoration of paintings, announced today that two paintings have been found in San Francisco, one of which he identified as an original Raphael and the other an original Antonio Moro.

The supposed Moro, found in a drapery shop by Berdinkoff, is the portrait of a sixteenth century woman done in oils. Over the picture were superimposed two other paintings, one a Syrian scene, and the other a flower scene. It was necessary for Berdinkoff to remove the superimposed paintings by chemicals and a knife before he reached the Moro masterpiece.

The picture, identified as a Raphael, is a "Madonna and Child," painted on an oak panel. It had an adventurous career in a Tennessee mining camp, where it was taken in 1843 by a member of a family in whose possession it had been for many years, through purchase in a New York secondhand store.

The Raphael, blurred and yellowed with age, reacted readily to chemical restoratives, but it took 14 hours to bring about the restoration of the Moro. Berdinkoff working without food or sleep.

In the Moro the flower picture was in oils, but the Syrian scene was in some composition not known to modern art and difficult to analyze. It could be removed only with the knife.

Moro, supposed to have been of English birth, did also his work in Spain under Philip II. It is supposed by Berdinkoff that in one of the many engaged in by that monarch the Moro was stolen and found its way to Syria, where some native artist went to work on the canvas.

The early history of the Raphael is obscure. The pictures have been placed in a bank vault and will be forwarded to New York for an appraisal. Mrs. Caroline B. Seger Quenton, art director of the Palace of the Legion of Honor, the city's chief salon, said the paintings bear many evidences of being originals.

HUMANE SOCIETY SEEKING FUNDS THROUGH MEMBERSHIPS
Money Needed to Carry On Work for Neglected Domestic Animals.

The Humane Society of Missouri has begun a campaign for new members to provide sufficient funds with which to carry on its work in behalf of neglected and unfortunate domestic animals of all kinds. Life memberships particularly are being sought to provide funds for paying off indebtedness on property at 1618 Carr street, now used by the society as an animal shelter, and to erect a new building suitable for the work.

The work of the society as it relates to horses has been endorsed by the St. Louis Horse Show Association and by organized team owners as a whole.

A number of prominent St. Louis women are active in the campaign for life memberships in this, the first organized appeal made for the society in its 56 years of existence. Headquarters are at 1508 Federal Commerce Trust Building.

50 EASTERN RAILROADS CONFERENCE ON EMPLOYEES' WAGE DEMAND

Replies to Requests for Pay Increase to Be Made by March 2.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Officials of about 50 Eastern railroads, at a special meeting in the Grand Central Terminal, considered the requests of conductors and trainmen for increased wages. After the meeting, it was announced that no definite action was taken except to decide that the individual railroads would reply to their respective employees in writing not later than March 2.
The trainmen and conductors had requested individual answers from the railroads not later than March 2. They asked increases ranging from $1 to $1.64 a day for brakemen, flagmen, baggage men, switchmen and assistant conductors and ticket collectors. The territory represented by the employees is east of Chicago and north of the Potomac River and includes virtually all of the Eastern railroads. Approximately 45,000 employees are represented in the requests for increases.

AGREES TO EXTRADITE SCOTT

California Governor to Permit Removal to Chicago for Trial.
By the Associated Press.
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 25.—Reversing his previous decision, Gov. Richardson has consented to the return to Illinois of Robert B. Scott, alias John Redding, San Quentin convict, wanted in Chicago for the murder of Joseph Maurer, a drug clerk. Scott's brother, Russell, was convicted of murder in connection with the death of Maurer, who was shot during a holdup, but was committed to an insane asylum.
In announcing that he had withdrawn his objection to Scott's extradition, the Governor explained he did so only on the assurance of Illinois authorities that the prisoner would be prosecuted not only on the murder charge but also on five indictments for robbery.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions? Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief? Why cutting and operations fail? Do you know the cause of piles is internal?
That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowels? Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by Wolff-Wilson Drug Stores and druggists everywhere, that is guaranteed to remove the cause by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowels. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for cure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sufferers, and saves the long delay, the expense of an operation, and the pain of HEM-ROID today. It will do the same for you.

WOMAN IN DRY CASE FREED

She Had Served 12 Days and Paid Fine of $100.
By the Associated Press.
AURORA, Ill., Feb. 25.—After serving 12 days of a 60-day sentence and paying a $100 fine, Miss May Eberman, 24 years old, of Rock Island, has been released from the DeKalb County jail at Sycamore. She was sentenced because she rode in an automobile with two men who were using the car in transporting liquor.
Judge Pond, who sentenced the young woman, freed her when attorneys from Rock Island represented that she had been "enticed by the men to accompany them to Chicago" and had no idea that they were rum runners. The men were sentenced to 90 days in jail and ordered to pay fines of $300 each. They are in jail at DeKalb.

21,400 AT AUTOMOBILE SHOW DESPITE RAIN

Visitors Display Interest in Accessories — Sales Meetings Held at Hotels.

Despite the rain last night, interest in the automobile show continued so high that yesterday's attendance totaled 21,400, only 200 less than on the corresponding day last year.

Among factory executives attending the show today is C. W. Nash, president of Nash Motors and of its subsidiary, Ajax Motors; George M. Graham, vice president of the Chandler Motor Car Co., and Ed Black, vice president of the Cleveland Automobile Co.

One of the popular exhibits at the show is the "Homespun Special" car, specially fitted for motor camping, that the Cleveland Motor Sales Co. is showing. It is complete with Pullman bed, on a Cleveland chassis.

Battery in Ice

A Howland battery is embedded in a cake of ice, but apparently is not affected for the current from it operates a light. A rubber enamel for refinishing automobiles is shown by the Steelcase Manufacturing Co. It is put on with a brush and dries overnight. Ford owners wanting more power find of interest the exhibit of Roof Svalve leads for Ford engines shown by the Standard Auto Service Co. Gasolene snubbers are shown in action, holding down spring rebound, by the O. H. Brown Co. Paraffin piston rings, which are said to stop oil pumping, are shown by a salesman who explains how the rings also can be used in worn cylinders.

Meetings were held yesterday for Paige and Jewett, Willys-Overland, Oldsmobile and Packard dealers. T. Paige-Jewett dealers were guests of the Willys Motor Car Co., the distributor, at a luncheon at the Coronado. Speakers included Henry Krohn, vice president of the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Co. of Detroit; W. K. Towers, advertising manager; S. E. Jamieson, general service supervisor; F. A. Hoover, district sales manager; and J. D. Shively, St. Louis manager of the Commercial Investment Trust. Krohn said he believed it would not be many years before there were only 25 automobile manufacturers in this country. He said that schedules aimed at production of 25,000 Paige and Jewett cars this year.

Speaking at the meeting of Oldsmobile dealers, Philip H. Brookman, president of the De Luxe Automobile Co., predicted a shortage of automobiles toward the end of March and in early April. Demand indicated a shortage of 3,000 Olds cars in March, he said. The Olds buyers were guests of the De Luxe Co. at a luncheon at the Coronado. Speakers included H. S. Wier, assistant general sales manager of the Olds Motor Works; C. R. Todd, assistant service manager; P. C. E. Barry, factory representative; E. J. McMullen, of the sales promotion department; and R. S. Hudson, local manager of the General Motors Acceptance Corporation. George T. Willett, general manager of the De Luxe Co., was in charge of arrangements.

Prizes at Banquet

Prizes were awarded at a Willys-Overland banquet held last night at the American Annex Hotel, to salesmen making the best records in the Willys Derby, a sales contest held last fall. The winners were J. H. McDonald, Banko Motor Co., St. Louis; T. E. Johnson, J. E. Leiden, Inc., St. Louis.

cent Vac Lavin, Dorn Auto Co., and R. L. Goff, De Soto Overland Co., De Soto, Mo. They were masked during the banquet, and the prizes were presented by the Willys-Overland Co. branch manager, W. O. Kiraofe, branch manager, Harry H. Henry, city sales manager; George H. Lister, sales promotion manager, and J. Frank Whyte, wholesaler manager. The banquet marked the start of a drive to get for Willys-Overland 1 per cent of the total automobile sales in this territory.

George M. Berry, head of the Berry Motor Car Co., Packard distributor, presided at a luncheon for Packard dealers yesterday at the Claridge Hotel. Speakers included Thomas A. Staker, assistant manager of the Packard technical service division, and J. A. Gilray, of the educational department of the Packard factory. Staker dwelt upon the way in which the need for service on modern automobiles has been lessened by better construction methods and use of finer materials. He illustrated his talk by reference to Packard construction practices, and showed how the new chassis lubricator and oil rectifier save wear and tear on a car. Many of the visitors to the show are also inspecting the booths in the Union Market which are kept open until the show closes. Elaborate displays of food, fruits and fish are made daily and the merchants report large crowds and renewed interest in the market.

Burglars Send Back Paper Sacks.
Madame Louise Cockrum, owner of a style shop at 2318 Cherokee street, yesterday received by parcel post a package containing 1900 paper sacks, which was part of $900 worth of loot taken by burglars who raided the establishment Feb. 17 last. The package bore the original address and apparently had been discarded by the burglars and left on top of a mail box by the finder or mailed by the burglars themselves. None of the dresses or hats taken in the robbery were in the package.

Goitre Successfully Treated With Colerless Liniment
Kansas City Lady Will Tell You How.
Mrs. Irwin Big, 620 Irving St., Kansas City, Mo., says: "You can see my neck toads. I have had a goitre for years. I have tried everything, but nothing helped me. I have heard of Colerless Liniment, so I bought it. I used it as directed, and in a few days the goitre was gone. I am so glad. I will tell you how to get it. Write to the Colerless Company, 1000 Broadway, New York City. Locally at World-Wide Drug Co."

Wales Longs to Visit Canada Again.
By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 25.—The graphic today quote friends of the Prince of Wales as saying he is anxious to visit his Canadian ranch this year, perhaps in the autumn. The Prince said he was especially keen on taking English boys to work on the ranch.

NEW YORK MAN HEARD
ON LACLEDÉ INVENTORY
Gas Consultant of That City
Gives Views on Overhead and Intangible Costs.
By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 25.—
The claims of the Laclede Gas Light Co. for overhead and intangible costs amounting to more than $10,000,000 to be added to the inventory value of its property for rate-making were supported before the Public Service Commission yesterday by A. S. B. Little, gas consultant for the city of New York.
City Counselor Muench succeeded in shaking Little on only one item, the cost to the company of compiling records useful in the daily conduct of its business. Little hesitated to give full approval to the item of $152,000 set up as the cost of the minute books of the board of directors. The company compiled this cost upon the salaries paid to the directors. Little "was not sure" that the item was essential.

I SLEEP BETTER
Says Illinois Man, Bladder Action at Night Is One of Nature's Danger Signals.
C. E. Rogers, Unity, Ill., says: "Lith-land Buchu relieved me of a bad case of bladder irritation. I sleep peacefully and better in day time. It has also helped my wife. I will sell or write my experience to anyone. Lithland Buchu acts on bladder as a powerful diuretic, drives out abnormal deposits and neutralizes excessive acids, thereby relieving irritation which causes 'disturbed sleep.' The tablets cost 2 cents at leading drug stores. Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsville, Mo. Locally at Wolff-Wilson Drug Co."

POLES INVADE LITHUANIA

KOVNO, Lithuania, Feb. 25.—Violation of the Lithuanian frontier by Polish police is charged in a semiofficial statement. The incident occurred Monday night, when, according to the statement, Polish police, armed with a hand grenade and machine guns, crossed the frontier between Kilaucbiotas and Podaje, and occupied the forest on the Lithuanian side.

"During the attack," the statement says, "seven Lithuanian police were taken prisoner, and one is missing. Three Lithuanian Poles now are guarding the occupied for-

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Soldiers' Lives in Hawaii.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

NOTHING in your People's Column on "Soldiers in Hawaii" has failed to express my views on the soldiers' life on that island. I served in the air service over there from June, 1922, to April, 1923. I agree with Mr. Kern that Hawaii is not the best place in the world to spend three years. However, a man does not like the place, though, is no reason why he should form a habit of drinking poison liquor. No man was made to enlist for service in Hawaii. Nor are the conditions there any worse than at some of the army posts here in the states.

At Schofield there are movies to go to every night. There are all sorts of athletic games for one to participate in. On Saturdays and Sundays the army furnishes trucks for the men not on duty to go to Haleiwa Beach, which is nine miles from Schofield. The enlisted men are allowed to visit the volcano and stay 10 days for the cost of $11. The cost to a tourist is several hundred dollars for the same privilege. Honolulu is a beautiful city, that fact cannot be denied. Waikiki is a noted beach for surfing, but there are better beaches over there for bathing. I know, Nanihau and Hawaii. The restriction was raised in Honolulu in August, 1922, and as for the military police arresting men and marching them out to Schofield, 28 miles, I never heard of it. However, they did arrest the drunken men and handle them sort of roughly and send them out to Fort Shafter, which is two miles out of Honolulu. There are only a few white women over there, but that is no good reason why the soldiers must associate with the brown Hawaiian or the yellow race, and get some horrible disease.

There is always some kind of amusement in Honolulu. All of the latest moving pictures come over there soon after they are released. An enlisted man can get a furlough if he can show a certified check for $50. The reason for that rule is because there used to be so many coming back and landing in California broke.

You will not only find it in Hawaii, but all over the army, that a soldier is never satisfied, nor contented, because he wants always to be on the move. I am speaking from actual experience.

House Numbers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THERE is much room for improvement in the manner of numbering the houses in this city. In many instances the numbers can hardly be detected in broad daylight, and to find many of them at night is simply a task. I would suggest that where houses set far back from the street that a plain number be attached to a post on the lawn, near the sidewalk.

Esteemed editor, if you think this subject is of sufficient importance, suppose you enlarge upon it in your editorial columns.

A BOOSTER.

A Dog Owner's Complaint.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I AM writing this to let all dog owners in our city know what becomes of their heeled dogs when they are termed "lost." Nine times out of 10 they are sent to the "City Dog Pound." My dog, a boxer, with this year's license attached to a harness was taken out of my arms by the dogcatcher because he was not muzzled. A lady neighbor who was holding an unmuzzled and unmuzzled dog told me she gave the dogcatcher a dollar and he gave her dog back to her. I said to the man, "Why take a licensed dog out of a young woman's arms and give another back across the way who is both unmuzzled and unmuzzled?" He said nothing but threw my dog in the wagon. I went to dog pound, showed receipt for $2 license purchased at City Hall, but was told I had to give $1 for dog's return. My mother is a property owner in our city. Maybe I should boost my home town. Who? Not I, as long as this is termed lawful. Why don't the receipt for license state all dogs must be muzzled at all times?

Compulsory Vaccination.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

AT the mass meeting at Soldan High School on Feb. 18, 1926, an Executive Committee was appointed to work for the continuance of the 55-cent tax. Before asking this of the taxpayers, would it not be proper to see that our schools are made public? The present restrictions should be done away with, and the doors of the schools should be open to every healthy child of school age in the city, while the schools are in session, and the School board should be the ones to decide who shall enter the schools and who shall not, and not allow any trade union—medical or otherwise—to decide this question.

There should be no objection to giving the children the best education obtainable, but it is working a hardship on a number of taxpayers to oblige them to pay this tax, and then have to pay tuition in a private school simply because they don't want the health of their children undermined by vaccination.

"BEAUTIFYING THE CITY."

We are in accord with the idea of beautifying the small parks and squares of the city with works of art—fountains and memorials—statues—if they are really works of art.

Chairman Russell of the City Plan Commission has suggested that citizens and organizations be invited to contribute the money necessary for the ornamentation of park plots. We have no doubt that there will be offers to erect memorials of one kind or another. Some of the offers will be prompted more by a desire to erect memorials to the contributor, or one of his or her ancestors, than by a desire to beautify the city.

We have statues in St. Louis the removal of which would do more to beautify the city than their erection did. There are two principal considerations to be met in permitting the erection of any memorial statue or fountain or other piece of sculpture or architecture in the city parks.

First, the subject of the memorial should be selected solely on the ground of service to the city, State, nation or mankind, worthy of commemoration. If the subject is a person, the individual should be distinguished for public service or work of importance. If an event, the event should fully justify the memorial.

Second, when the subject is selected the design and workmanship should be appropriate to the location and in accord with the best standards of art. The work itself, whether sculpture or architecture, should be distinguished, as well as the subject.

There are 35 small parks listed in the plan of beautifying the city. These parks can be beautified and made a source of gratification to citizens and of interest to visitors. But on the other hand, they can be marred and made reproaches to the city and objects of scorn and laughter to both citizens and visitors.

It has been suggested that a jury be created to select the location, subject and design of the memorials. We would suggest two impartial and competent juries. One to select the subject and another to pass upon the artist and his design.

"Beautifying the city" is an easy and attractive phrase, but let us be sure that any and all memorials erected in the public parks in St. Louis really contribute to the desired end.

HOW WE WELCOMED THE COUNTESS.

Vivacious Vera, as the tabloid papers refer to her, was treated to a bit of that quaint mid-Victorian hospitality for which New York is noted, shortly after her arrival, "moral turpitude" and all, on Manhattan Isle. The proper courtesies were extended to our distinguished guest, who is here for a short visit of not more than 10 days, by Earl Carroll, the theatrical manager. True to the conventional, strait-laced New York way of entertaining, Mr. Carroll arranged a quiet party at his theater, and as a snub properly administered, we think, Immigration Commissioner H. H. Curran was not invited.

The evening was spent in delightful conversation on the arts, with some cutting remarks about the Department of Labor thrown in. The former Countess of Cathcart could not help feeling quite at home. Her dance partner was that second Galahad, Harry K. Thaw. She was introduced to a number of persons really worth while, and representative of the best in New York's social life. An amusing, whimsical touch of narrative came to notice as the evening waned, when according to reports, the guests toasted Countess Vera in wine drawn from a bathtub in which sat a masked chorus girl. "Immoral turpitude," announced the witty toastmaster of the evening, no doubt. So the whole affair went off on a high note of laughter.

"So this is New York," we imagine the Countess saying, with a touch of irony, in view of the efforts of Uncle Sam to keep the city free from the taint of a mere divorce.

HENRY AMES' GIFT.

In 1888, when $100,000 was an important sum of money, Henry Ames gave that much to Washington University for the use of O'Fallon Polytechnic Institute to foster vocational education. In the same year Washington University sold the institute to the Board of Education, a sale which included the legacy. It was agreed in writing, as a condition of the sale and of the transference of the legacy, that the Board of Education would set aside at least $6000 a year for polytechnic instruction and that the name of Henry Ames be associated forever with that enterprise.

O'Fallon Institute languished from that time, its building having been turned to other uses, and by 1875 it had lost its identity in the public school system. The Ames legacy was not collected by the Board of Education until 1885. Then the money was used, not for the specific and only purpose for which it was bequeathed, but for the building of Central High School. Ames' purpose and Ames' name were forgotten. Such is the story as brought to light by Thomas E. Spencer, assistant to the Superintendent of Schools, in a book which was published at his own expense.

It is a sorry tale of civic ingratitude toward a citizen who saw the importance of vocational training long before it was apparent to most educators. An obligation is involved which cannot and must not be longer neglected.

With due respect to Senator Reed of Missouri and Senator Borah of Idaho, every man and woman, including the two Senators themselves, who voted intelligently either for Calvin Coolidge or John W. Davis in 1924 voted for America's adherence to the World Court.

AN INSULT TO THE MAYOR.

Mayor Miller describes as "a most insulting letter" an invitation to speak before the Public School Patrons' Alliance which asked him to limit his remarks to 10 or 15 minutes. "I am not accustomed to limit my time," writes the Mayor. "If I am important enough to speak at any place, then I should regulate how much time I consume." We trust the Alliance will promptly beg the Mayor's pardon for this act of less majesty. It is plain to see that the Alliance is lamentably lacking in appreciation of the dignity of the Altkond who holds forth from the throne of the city hall.

By all means something should be done to prevent that trouble between the Morgans and the Mellons from breaking into open warfare. Aluminum prices and interest rates are high enough as it is.

SPECIAL COUNSEL AGAIN?

And now, as in the oil lease cases, there is a movement to turn the Mellon aluminum case over to special counsel, who will work independently of the regularly constituted legal officers of the Government. The proposal is being fathered by Senator Robinson, who believes this is a more efficacious way to proceed than to pile a senatorial investigation upon the investigations of the Federal Trade Commission and the Department of Justice that have gone before. It is said to have the approval of Senator Walsh, who conducted the inquiry into the aluminum case of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Senator Robinson may be right, yet it is a sad commentary upon the Department of Justice that it should be considered necessary to take big cases out of its hands. In the aluminum case, of course, to leave it in the hands of the present Attorney-General and his assistants is to swathe it in winding sheets. After much dilly-dallying and half-hearted investigation, the Department of Justice has given the Mellon company a clean bill of health in the face of the damaging evidence unearthed by the Federal Trade Commission, upon which Mr. Sargent's predecessor based his belief that the Mellon company has been guilty of unlawful acts.

If the Department of Justice had shown itself even reasonably diligent and competent in the prosecution of this case its opinion would no doubt be accepted as final. As it is, no one who has studied the case can believe that the department did its work with zeal or thoroughness.

In the last few years the favoritism of the Department of Justice toward large special interests has been so pronounced as to render it useless when the fate of those interests lies in the balance. The national prosecutor has become a national hush-up. The public may no longer expect it to perform the job to which it is assigned. Hence special counsel.

THE BOB IS DEAD—BRAVO!

Bobbed hair is doomed. So says M. Magnanaro. He knows. He if you're curious, is superintendent of the Societe du Progres de la Coiffure, which as you may have surmised, is a French hairdressers' organization.

Women are already penitent. Speaking from his professional experience, many of them, he says, are now wearing chignons while their hair is growing. We think he might have omitted this detail. It is possible, of course, that a chignon is all right. Perhaps it is entirely proper for a woman to wear one of them. But nobody but a European would believe this device of a poor, weak creature to conceal her folly. Those foreigners, you know, just have not the delicacy and reserve of us red-blooded Nordics.

Still, let us not quibble about this faux pas, or shall we say, gaucherie? La, la. Let us concentrate rather on the prospect of relief from that distressing monotony, the masculinized female. Let our pragmatists, who can never think of anything except in economic terms, figure on the savings that will accrue with the banishment of women from the barber shops. Let our poets do their stuff in dactyls and lambics and in pentameters, say even hexameters. Let them go as far as they like.

As for us hewmen—we fellows with hair of our chests—for us, the passing of the bob is an occasion to cut loose. Let every last one of us lift a zippy class of sarsaparilla to M. Magnanaro and shout "Bravo!" Just like that.

Now that Countess Vera is actually in the country, we suppose that her S. A. will be held responsible for static.

EFFECTS OF COMPULSORY ARBITRATION.

Objecting to a recent editorial in which the Post-Dispatch commented on the anthracite strike settlement, Martin A. Dillman, in a letter printed on this page, asked if the effect of compulsory arbitration of labor disputes would not be involuntary servitude, which is prohibited by the thirteenth constitutional amendment.

In the editorial in question the Post-Dispatch did not advocate compulsory arbitration, but in view of the evident utility of the coal strike settlement, urged that President Coolidge call upon Congress to take action with regard to the Oddie bill, now pending, which embodied the substance of the Coal Commission's plan for the settlement of such strikes. That suggestion was timely is shown by the admissions of labor leaders that the settlement of the anthracite strike was a mere truce, and left the industry in a condition where trouble may break out again at any time.

While compulsory arbitration may be looked upon as a last resort, the fear that it may involve what amounts to involuntary servitude is not justified by the facts. New Zealand, where the labor unions have had great political power, has had compulsory arbitration for years. The law has given general satisfaction and the country has been, with few exceptions, in the enjoyment of industrial peace.

The Post-Dispatch favors the sort of arbitration that makes for complete publicity of facts. If both sides agree that arbitration shall be compulsory and that both shall be bound by the findings, no individual worker can justly say that the results in his case would be involuntary servitude.

SUDDENLY TURNED PIOUS.

Agony, here we are in the next 10 years—Millions of us—Perhaps even China's one-fourth—Running around in automobiles and living just as we please—Leaving those who prey upon us in the homes we have now to gnash their teeth—Leaving the public utilities, every one of which wants more money, to get it from one another—Bidding farewell to all those who preach truth to us while shaking us down for whatever we make—We shall move as we will and rest where we may—If there is no place like home, there is also no home like place—We can find the place, there biding while it lasts—Then on again—And won't that, as Briggs says, be a GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELING?

GOODNIGHT, HOME!

There is at the Automobile Show a car completely outfitted as a home.

When night comes you knock the car down and put up the home.

There is a stove on one running board and a china cabinet on the other.

In the top are a radio outfit and a toilet cabinet.

There is a Pullman berth under the seat—A shower bath at the rear—

And an alarm clock on the dashboard.

So there you have it.

If the climate is bad you go where it is good.

If you don't like your neighbors you go where you do like them.

If you see roach bugs coming or kitchen ants, you beat it.

It is said that one-fourth of the population of China lives on junk.

A junk is a sea-going automobile.

The reason the Chinese took to it was because they got tired of living on land.

We must recall that China is a very old country.

She had civilization, zoning ordinances, real estate men, cities, taxes, etc., when our forefathers were painting pictures in caves.

It is not hard to tell how old a civilization is when you see a man and his family floating off down a river looking for a new place to be up.

You know what they have gone through.

So we have the land-going junk.

Or home on wheels.

We looked this one at the Automobile Show over thoroughly.

It is a complete home, and needs only to have the usual legend, "God Bless Our Home," painted on the front.

They can easily fix that.

It is likely too, that it has a still somewhere.

We didn't see it, but one usually doesn't.

The still is hidden, and no doubt this one is.

We are a free people, but we don't boast of it.

Anyway, here we are in the next 10 years—

Millions of us—

Perhaps even China's one-fourth—

Running around in automobiles and living just as we please—

Leaving those who prey upon us in the homes we have now to gnash their teeth—

Leaving the public utilities, every one of which wants more money, to get it from one another—

Bidding farewell to all those who preach truth to us while shaking us down for whatever we make—

We shall move as we will and rest where we may—

If there is no place like home, there is also no home like place—

We can find the place, there biding while it lasts—

Then on again—

And won't that, as Briggs says, be a GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELING?

After reading day after day about Clarence Saunders and his troubles, we have concluded that it is one thing to piggle and another thing to wiggle out of it.

Sparta, Mich., Sentinel.

Florida is the chin whiskers of the United States. It is 500 miles long, 200 miles wide and three feet high. It is bounded on the north by the eighteenth amendment and on the other three sides by the three-mile limit.

Florida is inhabited by Indians, Americans, white men and head-bag tourists, sometimes called tin-canners. The reds live on the Everglades, the blacks live on the whites, and the whites live on the tourists, and the tin-canners on the municipal camping grounds.

Florida's principal sources of income are hotels, fruits, alligator skins, tourists and the vast-pocket press agency of California. But the one big outstanding feature of Florida is its fruit. Orange raising coming first, of course. Raising oranges in Florida is a cinch; all that is required is enough money to live on while raising them.

The next Florida fruit is the grapefruit. A grapefruit is a cross between a lemon, a dose of quinine and a pumpkin. It has the color and disposition of a blonde ticket seller at a movie-picture show. It is usually eaten at breakfast, thus combining the advantages of a meal and a morning shower-bath at the same time.

The tangerine is a distant cousin of the orange. It wears a loose and careless Mother Hubbard style of wrapper and is much easier to disrobe than the orange, but it has a more dry, withered and disappointed disposition when undressed.

The kumquat is the only thing in Florida that lives up to its name. It looks and acts just the way it sounds.

A POSER FOR SENATOR REED.

From the St. Joseph News-Press.

THE race for the United States senatorship in Missouri this year will be complicated by cross-current issues that will make it difficult even for the initiated to intelligently forecast the result. At the outset a question arises as to the attitude of Senator Reed toward his Republican colleague, Senator George H. Williams. The World Court issue eliminated, Reed could be expected to open upon Williams a broadside of invective, as he did upon the late Senator Selden P. Spencer, but Reed has seen fit to inject the court question, and he is an orator of such eloquence and a campaigner of such marked ability that unquestionably he will have his way. The court will be an issue in Missouri because Reed sees fit to make it an issue.

But if Reed is anti-court, Williams is scarcely less so. Reed, the Democrat, and Williams, the Republican, fought shoulder to shoulder in the recent senatorial campaign, and with the minority went down to defeat. Now Reed is appealing his case to the people. He will urge the people to elect a Senator and Congressman who are against the court. Williams will make the same plea. It seems scarcely probable that that Reed could fight Williams with his wonted vigor, if at all.

Shortly before he was appointed to his present post Williams was asked what he would do if Reed should attack him on the floor of the Senate. "The question will never arise for me to decide," was the answer. "Senator Reed will never talk about me as he did about Senator Spencer." Here is evidence of a possible truce between Missouri's senior and junior Senators.

Political gossip has it that Reed will support Representative Harry B. Hawes of St. Louis for the Democratic nomination for Senator. It is pointed out that Reed and Hawes are personal friends, that they belong to the same wing of the party, and that both are wets, but now comes a disclosure that may result in estrangement. Hawes favors adherence to the World Court. In the last session of Congress a resolution was offered in the House very similar to the one recently acted on in the Senate, and Hawes was one of eight Missouri Congressmen to vote for it.

Forced to choose between Hawes, the Democratic pro-courtier, and Williams, the Republican anti-courtier, how will Missouri's senior Senator decide? Here is a point calling for the wisdom of a Solomon.

It is possible that additional entries in the race will point a way out, but as lines are now drawn it seems certain that Reed's power will be dampened at a time when there is an imperative need of keeping his powder dry.

PARTY'S NEED IN POLITICS.

From the Baltimore Sun.

WHAT the harmony-seeking Democrats in Congress do not seem to realize is that the need of the Democratic party is not a better understanding between its leaders and the people who vote at the polls. The party may have to have its leaders in step, but vastly more does it need to have conviction that the country will respect its pluck and that the congressional leaders will perform automatically.

SIDELIGHTS ON QUEEN VICTORIA AND HER SON

Her Diaries and Letters Published — Prince Asserted His Independence.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1926, by New York World and Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—An intimate sidelight on the character of the activities of the late King Edward VII when he was Prince of Wales is revealed in a new volume of letters and diaries of Queen Victoria published here today.

Writing to her son on the subject of attending the races, the Queen wrote:

"Dearest Bertie: Now that the Ascot races are approaching I wish to remind you earnestly and seriously that I trust you will, as my uncle, William IV (of Germany), and my aunt, and as we ourselves did, confine your visits to the races to two days, Tuesday and Thursday, and not go on Wednesday and Friday as my uncle, William IV never went, nor did we."

"Your example can do much good and may do an immense deal of evil in the present day. I hear every trace and attached friend of yours expressing anxiety that you should gather round you really good, steady, distinguished people."

Prince's Reply to Mother.

The Prince, replying in his independent spirit, says he was happy to receive earnestly and seriously that I trust you will, as my uncle, William IV (of Germany), and my aunt, and as we ourselves did, confine your visits to the races to two days, Tuesday and Thursday, and not go on Wednesday and Friday as my uncle, William IV never went, nor did we."

"When statements about the Queen's debts were being circulated by a weekly paper here, one of the Queen's entourage wrote: 'The Queen thinks a repetition of this scandalous assertion may lead to its being believed, and though her majesty does not wish to contradict by authority the assertions of such a newspaper as the World (the now defunct London weekly), the Queen would like some friendly hint to be given to the Daily Telegraph, whose editor I believe you know, as he might expose the falsehood of the whole story.'"

Queen Victoria's favoritism for the Duke of Cambridge, when he was a little boy, is shown by several letters and entries in the diary such as, "I hope you are pleased with your little great-grandfather. He is a clever, dear, and good little child, favorite of my beloved angel, her husband, Prince Albert."

"Dear little William's birthday. May God preserve him and may he grow up good, clever and liberal-minded in his views, worthy of his beloved grandpa, who was so anxious about him and that he would grow up into a 'contented Prussian.'"

"Dear Willie of Prussia's eighteenth birthday. Received the most astonishing and delightful telegram about giving him the Garter. It is a rare thing that three members of the same family should have it at the same time. May God bless and protect and guide dear Willie."

Writing of Charles Dickens after the great author's death, the Queen said:

"He is a very great loss. He had a large, loving mind and the strongest sympathy with the working classes. He felt sure that better feeling and a much greater understanding of classes would take place in time. And I pray earnestly that it may be so."

The Prince, replying in his independent spirit, says he was helping to raise a great national spirit and confidence. "I am always most anxious to meet your wishes dear mamma, in every respect and always regret if we are not quite in accord—but as I am a man and have some considerable knowledge of the world and society, I will, I am sure, at least I trust, give me to use my own discretion in matters of this kind, and please, if you have any stories you may hear about me, I trust you will never withhold your confidence from me until the facts are proved against me. Then I am ready to submit to anything."

"When statements about the Queen's debts were being circulated in a weekly paper here, one of the Queen's entourage wrote:

4000 AT SYMPHONY CONCERT FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Fourth of Series Under Director Galt Given in Scottish Rite Cathedral.

For the fourth of the season, series of public school concerts, given under the auspices of the Scottish Rite Cathedral, before about 4000 pupils at Scottish Rite Cathedral, Conductor Rudolph Ganz chose to arrange his announced program to present the works of composers of varied nationalities.

Thus beginning with Thomas "Mignon," he followed with the Enghelmann, J. Edward German's "Merry-makers Dance" from "Neil Gwynne" and, in order, the Alsatian, Emil Waldteufel's "Skaters Waltz," the Russian, Tchaikovsky's "The Nutcracker" from the Nutcracker Suite, the Frenchman, Charles Gounod's "Funeral March of a Marionette," the Russian, Anatole Laferriere's "Musical Snuff Box," and last, the Australian, Percy Grainger's "Shepherd Boy."

The prelude and postlude numbers were the "Triumphal March from Verdi's 'Aida'" and Rossini's "William Tell" overture. As the afternoon's finale, the children sang Samuel A. Ward's "America, the Beautiful," with full orchestral accompaniment. As in previous concerts, Conductor Ganz interpolated the numbers with descriptions and explanations of the instruments.

FUNERAL HERE TOMORROW OF
MRS. GEORGE A. CASTLEMAN

The funeral of Mrs. George A. Castleman of 3893 Lindell boulevard, widow of Judge Castleman, and daughter of Philander Cable, once president of the Rock Island Railroad system will be at 4:30 to-morrow afternoon at Christ Church Cathedral. The body will be buried at Rock Island, Ill. Mrs. Castleman died yesterday in San Antonio, of the infirmities of age. She was 76 years old, and had been ill for several months.

She was a native of Kentucky, and lived as a girl in Rock Island, Ill., where her father was a leading business man. He was instrumental in building the railroad which took at a name of the city, and was one of its first presidents. She was a sister of the late Ben Cable, for many years an Illinois Democratic Congressman. She was a member of Christ Church Cathedral for 40 years and was a member also of the Colonial Dames.

A nephew, Philander Cable, secretary of the American Embassy at Sofia, Bulgaria, returned recently to this country, and arrived at San Antonio the day before she died. A niece, Mrs. George C. Mackay, of 2880 Lindell boulevard, also survives.

Cavor to Address Auto Club.

Judge Cavor of the Court of Criminal Correction will address the St. Louis Automobile Club at a meeting to be held at the Western Hotel Club next Wednesday evening, to which the general meeting public has been invited. The general meeting is announced in view of the recent Supreme Court decision, in which the city's right to impose traffic laws was upheld in the case of Albert von Hoffmann, former president of the club.

Republican Club Meets Tonight.

W. Frank Carter, chairman of the Citizens' Campaign, formed in support of continuation of the 55-cent school tax, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the West End Republican Club, at 4216 Easton avenue, this evening. Other speakers will be former Judge Henry S. Caulfield and Mrs. Julia Childs Curtis, former Summer High School teacher.

WALL STREET RUMORS OF GARY'S RETIREMENT

Discussion on 25th Anniversary of U. S. Steel—Ex-Gov. Miller's Name Mentioned.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
 NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The United States Steel Corporation, largest industrial enterprise in the world, celebrates its twenty-fifth anniversary today, and Elbert H. Gary observes his twenty-fifth anniversary as the chief factor in its formation and development.

The dual event has given Wall Street occasion to point once more to the steel master's age—he was born on an Illinois farm in 1847—and to revive rumors of his impending retirement and roll upon its tongue the names of possible successors. The man most prominently mentioned in the gossip of the financial district is former Gov. Nathan L. Miller. Another is Myron C. Taylor.

Gary is still active and has given no intimation whatever of an intention to retire.

The name of Ex-Gov. Miller, long a corporation attorney of wide business and executive experience, has been brought forward chiefly because he became general counsel for the company last September, succeeding the late Richard V. Lindabury. At the same time he was made a director of the company, as well as a member of the all-important Finance Committee. Gary began with the company as a lawyer, never having been an operating steel man in the strictest sense.

The rumor that Myron C. Taylor is being groomed for the chairmanship of the board of directors of the company may be due to the fact that he, also, became a director and a member of the Finance Committee last autumn. Mr. Taylor, president of Taylor, Armitage & Eagles, Inc., is one of the largest cotton manufacturers in the country, and is a director of many other companies and institutions, including the First National Bank of New York.

Gary—still referred to in Wall Street as Judge Gary, because he was once a County Judge in Illinois—got his first taste of steel as attorney for John W. Gates. His services for that nimble operator and promoter attracted the attention of the elder J. P. Morgan, and when Morgan got behind the Illinois Steel Co. he selected Gary as the lawyer to work out details of the combination.

This job was carried through with great success. $200,000,000 of securities being floated on tangible assets said to have amounted only to $50,000,000. The larger amount represented the capitalized value the financiers believed they could make the company attain. It did.

Up to that time, Gary had busied himself with a law practice in the town of Wheaton, Ill. At Morgan's request he gave up this practice and became president of the expanded steel company.

There followed a veritable outbreak of steel consolidations, which led within a comparatively short time to a move to bring about the biggest of them all. As told by Ida M. Tarbell in her recently published "Life of Elbert H. Gary," there was a tremendous scurrying of steel magnates between New York and Chicago, Pittsburgh and Boston and back again, and there came into being the world's first "billion-dollar corporation."

It was another capitalized dream, for the company's $1,000,000,000 of stock was largely water. Gary and his associates made it their life work to guide the company to an impregnable financial condition. So well has this been achieved that the corporation's common stock for many years has had behind it tangible assets far in excess of the market price it commands.

The common shares sold at $3 a few years after the company's birth. They reached a high of 137 1/2 last year. The company's total assets are about $2,500,000,000, and it has distributed more than $2,170,000,000 in dividends since its formation. It employs 250,000 men in its various subsidiaries, with an annual payroll of approximately $450,000,000.

Gary, at the start of the corporation's existence, was chairman of the Executive Committee, which was in general charge. This committee was abolished in 1903, and the office of chairman of the board of directors and chief executive officer was created. Gary has retained this title since that time.

Charles M. Schwab, now chairman of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, was the first president of the United States Steel Corporation. He was succeeded by William E. Corey, who was succeeded by James A. Farrell.

Wall Street believes Farrell will continue as president, being the chief operating steel man for the corporation.

CASUALTY FIRM'S AFFAIRS AIRED AT M'CUTCCHAN TRIAL

Testimony $31,250 Was Borrowed From Quincy,
Ill., Bank to Release Collateral of Another Loan.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
HANNIBAL, Mo., Feb. 25.—The activity of St. Louisans in the financial affairs of the now defunct Interstate Casualty Co. of St. Louis and the Citizens' Trust Co. of Gorin, Mo., was gone into here yesterday at the trial of Jerome B. McCutchan, charged with assisting to receive a deposit when knowing the bank to be insolvent. McCutchan started his career as an undertaker in Canton, Mo., and progressed to St. Louis by way of Quincy, Ill. The date of the questioned deposit in the Gorin company is July 8, 1924. The bank closed on July 30, 1924.

As part of his big program, McCutchan had acquired control of the American General Indemnity Corporation of St. Louis and the Interstate Casualty Co. of Birmingham, Ala., and merged the concerns. All this was done on a veritable shoestring.

Part of the shoestring was supplied by McCutchan's associate, John L. McNatt, St. Louis attorney, who borrowed $31,250 from the First National Bank of Birmingham for that purpose, and pledged interstate stock as collateral.

A Change in Creditors.
McCutchan and his associates then needed the pledged stock in order to have a controlling interest in the Interstate, so a loan of $31,250 was obtained from the Quincy Ricker National Bank of Quincy, Ill. This the Quincy bank paid the Birmingham bank and the borrowers merely changed from one creditor to another.

The loan from the Quincy bank was obtained on a note signed by Roy T. Meyers, cashier of the Gorin bank, and his brother, O. A. Meyers. Joseph L. Thomas, vice president of the Quincy Ricker Bank, was given to understand that McCutchan was using the money and would pay off the loan.

The loan was payable on May 27, 1924. It was not paid and Thomas and the bank's attorney hurried to St. Louis, where they conferred with McCutchan, McNatt, Meyers and others in the Interstate offices in the Times Building. Thomas had learned that the Gorin bank was shy on cash. The Gorin bank owed $59,750 to the Quincy bank on account. In addition to the $31,250 owed on the Meyers brothers' note.

Later, in June, Thomas returned to St. Louis and participated in a five-day conference in the Times Building at which Roy Meyers demanded that McCutchan pay him all he owed, and McCutchan made a like demand on Meyers. No cash was forthcoming, but the Quincy Bank subsequently realized on its loans by selling collateral.

Thomas mentioned J. D. Debuschannes as having accompanied McCutchan to Quincy one time in connection with the $31,250 loan. Debuschannes is the man who, by suit, sent the Interstate into receivership. He was described by Thomas as "closely associated" with Jacob L. Bahler, St. Louis politician and insurance company executive.

Tells of Visit to Bank.
Thomas also testified to visiting the Gorin Bank in Quincy on Jan. 14, 1925, when Roy T. Meyers and McCutchan were present and to finding more than $500,000 of notes on hand. About $117,000 of the notes represented loans to McCutchan and his associates, including McNatt and G. C. Hill, and were dated that day by McCutchan at Meyers' insistence. Other witnesses were Howe Steel, Deputy Finance Commissioner, who is liquidating the Gorin Bank, and A. E. Leslie, who made the deposit on which the present case is based. Leslie, a tall, gaunt farmer, had deposited a total of $4834 at the Gorin Bank when it failed.

His deposit, as well as all other deposits, probably is a total loss, as the bank had loaned virtually all the money out on worthless securities. Leslie is now 65 years old and blind in one eye. The money had been received from the Government as insurance on Leslie's son, who died in 1918 while in service at Camp Funston.

U. S. SEEKS MILLIONS IN TAX FROM DRY LAW VIOLATORS

Quantity of Liquor Sold to Determine Assessment in Pennsylvania.

By the Associated Press. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 25.—The Federal Government will seek to recover several millions of dollars from Pennsylvania dry law violators, as retail liquor dealers' tax under provisions of the prohibition act, it has been made known by counsel for the prohibition unit here.

The tax will be determined by the quantity of liquor sold, Wade Heliman, Federal counsel said. A tax, amounting to $30,000, has already been assessed against Pittsburgh saloon keepers and bartenders, he added, and where payment is refused, plan of action calls for recourse to the courts. The attorney explained that individuals who manufacture liquor are subject to a tax of $2000 as distillers. Others are to be taxed $2550 for selling liquor, the total including the tax of dealers, an occupation assessment and a special retail dealers' tax fixed by the prohibition act.

COCKNEY GREETINGS FOR QUEEN

"Give 'Er a Clap—She's Worth It" Greeting at Baby Clinic. LONDON, Feb. 25.—Queen Mary heard more cockney probably than on any other day of her career during her visit yesterday to Poplar, in the East End. The occasion was the Queen's inspection of the baby clinic at St. Katherine's college, the oldest philanthropic foundation in the Kingdom.

Democratic Poplar is populated by workers and did not appear at first to show enthusiasm about royalty, but when the Queen stepped from her automobile into the street with a friendly smile and began talking to the mothers and children, the coolness soon disappeared. As the Queen passed on to another group of women to another chatting with the mothers and clucking the babies under the chin, she heard such exclamations as "Ain't she lovely?" "Bli'me, she's a bit of all right, aren't she?" "Give 'er a clap, she's worth it," followed by cheers as the Queen drove away.

Woman's Revolver Plots Two Men. Mrs. Elizabeth Trout of 4230 Penrose street, carried a revolver when she answered the doorbell at 12:30 a. m. yesterday. Two men were at the door, but when they saw the weapon, they ran away. She fired three shots after them.

Heed The Warning Of a Cold

A COLD always gives warning. Take advantage of that warning and start treating it at once.

Millions do this with hot lemonade. They take one when they first suspect a cold, and immediately go to bed under warm covers.

In the morning—nine times out of ten—every trace of cold has disappeared together with the danger of pneumonia, "flu" and other ills that start with colds. Thus, over night a little thought and action save whole days of sickness and the money that they cost.

It's the cheapest, easiest, safest, sanest way to handle colds. When they warn you—get them, before they eventually get you. Just squeeze the juice of a lemon in glass or cup of hot water. The effectiveness of hot lemonade is due to more than its heat. Add sugar if you wish.

Get a dozen lemons now—take hot lemonade tonight. Ask for California lemons, the tart, juicy, practically seedless kind. They make the most effective lemonade for colds.

Spaghetti with Cheese and Tomato Sauce—Drain stewed chicken, in same water cook 1 package of cooked and drained American Beauty Spaghetti. Add 1 cup grated cheese and small can tomato paste, diluted by half as much water. Stir until cheese is melted.

Stewed Chicken with Egg Noodles—Drain stewed chicken, in same water cook 1 package of cooked and drained American Beauty Egg Noodles. Drain. Drain. Drizzle hot butter with 1 tablespoon oil. Add chicken to gravy. Serve in deep platter surrounded by egg noodles.

Shel-Roni with Cheese—Mix 1 package cooked and drained Shel-Roni, 3 tablespoons melted butter, 1 teaspoon salt, paprika, 1 cup milk and 1 cup grated cheese. Boilable cheese over top and brown. Shel-Roni is a new, tender, delicious macaroni food. Shell-shaped, it is especially appealing to children. For fine salads.

Vermicelli with Tomato Soup—Soil 1 package American Beauty Vermicelli until tender. Drain and place in cold water while preparing soup. When ready to serve, drain Vermicelli, add to soup and season to taste.

Macaroni Au Gratin—Boil and drain 1 package American Beauty Macaroni. Melt enough butter of 1 cu. But. 2 cu. ground cheese, level teaspoon mustard, half teaspoon salt and 1/2 pint milk. Bring to boil and pour over macaroni, sprinkle with bread crumbs and grated cheese. Bake in hot oven.

Pimpily? Well, Don't Be

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few days.

cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel, there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. Use and see.

LATEST APPOINTEE FOR HEALTH POST

DR. A. E. WALTERS.

After having chosen Dr. L. C. Givock of Luxembourg for the $5000-a-year job of St. Louis County Health Commissioner, the County Court yesterday rescinded its action and selected Dr. A. E. Walters of 327 Bonaparte avenue, Webster Groves, for the place. Dr. Walters, a Republican, who has practiced medicine 18 years, will succeed Dr. W. P. O'Malley, a Democrat, next Monday. Considerable political maneuvering preceded Dr. Walters' appointment, but as was told in the Post-Dispatch yesterday, Presiding Judge Smiley of the County Court, the one-man opposition party, was victorious in the end.

CITY MARSHAL'S STORY OF ROBBERY DENIED

Former De Soto, Mo., Deputy Gives Up, Saying Official Planned Holdup.

HILLSBORO, Mo., Feb. 25.—When former City Marshal Lionel W. Hearst of De Soto confessed implication in the $2740 robbery on Dec. 29, the American Herald-Examiner said the confession was a lie.

De Soto, Mo., Feb. 25.—The confession of Lionel W. Hearst, former City Marshal of De Soto, who was arrested last night, that he had planned a robbery of the American Herald-Examiner, was denied today by the city marshal.

For Crews, who was at large when Hearst made his confession, the city marshal said the confession was a lie.

In his confession, Hearst said Crews told him that he would kill him unless he joined in the plan for the robbery. He admitted he absented himself from town during the robbery and then led authorities on a false chase after the three holdup men. Hearst said he didn't get any of the money obtained in the robbery.

Influenced to surrender because of Hearst's statement, Crews has told Sheriff Williams that Hearst helped plan the robbery and has stated that he gave William Perkins, one of the robbers, $2000 to give Hearst.

They're Baked in the good old way

Surely nature would never have put so much of flavor and nourishment in beans if she expected folks to boil it all out again.

Nothing like that happens in the Heinz Kitchens. Heinz Beans are oven-baked—all the goodness baked in, all the nourishment retained. Beans that are steamed or boiled cannot be labeled "baked". For really baked beans, read the label, and buy—

Get back that lost weight!

When you start to waste away to a shadow, when the color leaves your cheeks and your poor, tired legs will hardly hold up your weak body it's high time you started taking a fine tonic and builder like Tanlac.

Tanlac will build you up and make you feel that life's worth living. Made from roots, herbs and bark gathered from the four corners of the earth and compounded under the exclusive Tanlac formula, Tanlac is just what the poor, starved body needs.

First of all it cleanses the blood stream and puts the digestive organs in order. You find, after a few days' treatment, that you want to eat. Pretty soon the welcome color steals back into your cheeks and the scales tell you that you're gaining weight. From then on it's only a short time until you're feeling fit as a fiddle.

Millions of men and women have taken Tanlac with great benefit. More than one hundred thousand people have written us glowing tributes to this wonderful tonic.

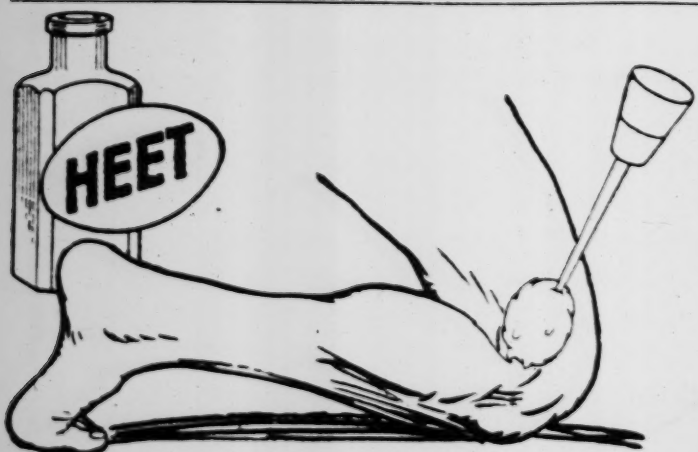

When you know it has worked wonders for so many folks it's folly not to take advantage of Tanlac's druggist's now and start the good help yourself. Don't put it off another day. Get a bottle at your neighborhood druggist.

Call Tanlac Household Treasure

"While not exactly ill I felt tired, restless and played out all the time. Took no interest in meals, work or recreation. Tanlac gave me needed rest. Now I enjoy active interest in all around me."

Rheumatism

Besides, "Heet" scatters the congestion and establishes a cure. "Heet" contains two soothing, penetrating ingredients, too expensive to use in ordinary liniments or ointments. "Heet" is a clean, fragrant liquid; doesn't stain, blister or irritate the skin. Druggists guarantee each 60-cent bottle.

DENIAL THAT MELLONS OWN ALUMINUM FIRM

Senator Reed of Pennsylvania Also Bids for Fair Play for Secretary.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—An appeal for "fair play" for Secretary Mellon in the proposed aluminum investigation was made in the Senate today by Senator David A. Reed (Rep., Pennsylvania). The right, Reed said, has been declared by Senator Walsh (Dem.) of Montana, who originally asked for the investigation, to be one against Secretary Mellon on the ground that he owns the controlling interest in the Aluminum Co. of America.

"The fact is," he added, "that Secretary Mellon owns only 16 1/2 per cent of the voting stock of the company."

Reed, in opposing the proposal of Walsh for a special Senate investigation of the Aluminum Co. of America, asserted that the Federal Trade Commission was now taking testimony in Pittsburgh. The period during which the company enjoyed a monopoly, he said, was for seven years from the time of its incorporation in 1919.

"But, Congress, author of the patent laws," he said, "was to blame for that monopoly. Since 1907 the aluminum field has been open to all."

Stockholdings of R. B. Mellon, brother of Senator R. B. Mellon, "are far from sufficient to constitute control of the company," the Department of Justice holds in its final report on its investigation as to whether the Aluminum Co. has violated Federal antitrust laws.

"This company," Reed said, "was investigated for 33 months by the Federal Trade Commission, and whether by coincidence or design, the report came down just before the election of 1924. Then the Department of Justice investigated it, and the thoroughness of this investigation is evidenced by the report which has been submitted to the Senate."

"How many investigations must it undergo, even if the 16 1/2 per cent of its stock is owned by a Republican official in the Cabinet?"

"In the spirit of fairness, I ask the Senate to vote against the proposed investigation."

"An examination of the stock records of the company disclosed that the stock holdings of A. W. Mellon do not constitute a control. Moreover, the combined holdings of A. W. Mellon and his brother, R. B. Mellon, are far from sufficient to constitute a control of the company," says William H. Bennett, a special assistant to the Attorney-General.

"It has been stated many times that A. W. Mellon supplied the original capital for the company. Such is not a fact. The records show that his first connection with the company was nearly two years after its formation, when he acquired 40 shares."

"The control of the company appears to rest in the Hall family, of which Davis (president of the company) is one of the trustees, and votes the stock the Hall family. Mrs. Alfred E. Hunt, the widow of Alfred E. Hunt, one of the founders, her son, Roy A. Hunt, George H. Clapp, a former partner of Alfred E. Hunt, Arthur V. Davis, A. K. Laurie and a few other of Mr. Hunt's original associates."

MAN TAKES POISON IN CELL AFTER POLICE SEARCH HIM

An investigation is being made to determine how John Johnson, 31 years old, a railroad fireman, was permitted to retain a small bottle of poison which he drank in his cell at Wyandling Street Station yesterday afternoon. He was searched at the time of his arrest. Johnson, at City Hospital in a serious condition, was arrested at 4:30 p. m. for creating a disturbance at his former rooming house, 214 St. George street. He was under the influence of liquor at the time and was placed in a cell. Two hours later a prison guard, attracted by Johnson's groans, found him lying on the floor with his empty bottle which had contained poison nearby. Johnson said he was dependent because his wife had refused to return to him.

WIFE WOULD NOT IRON SHIRTS, ONE PLEA IN DIVORCE SUIT

F. O. Becherer, a Manufacturer, Testifies He Had to Do Most of Household Work

Floyd O. Becherer, 3215 Virginia avenue, president of the Stability Leather Goods Manufacturing Co., testifying in his suit for divorce in Judge Barry's Court of Domestic Relations, yesterday said he had been forced to wear un-ironed shirts, unless his mother did the ironing.

Becherer alleged general indignities. Mrs. Becherer has filed a general denial to his allegations. Becherer testified that either his mother or he was compelled to do most of the household work during his marriage. Mrs. Becherer, he said, would not iron his shirts.

The Becherers were married in 1914 and separated in August of last year.

FINDS FAMILY MOURNING HIM

Man Returns After Widow Identifies Body as His.

HAVANA, Cuba, Feb. 23.—Carlos Fernandez, a prosperous citizen of Manzanillo, Oriente Province, returned home from a business trip to find his family in mourning, believing they had buried him in Havana.

Several days ago a man was found lying in the waiting room at Berrocal, Camaguey Province. Kind-hearted travelers were told that his name was in Manzanillo; he was sick and had no funds. They collected enough money to buy a ticket to Manzanillo. When the train reached Bayamo the unknown passenger was dead. He was identified as Fernandez, and Senora de Fernandez went to Bayamo and confirmed the identity. The body was buried in a cemetery in Bayamo and the "widow" returned home with her five children and published her husband's death notice.

Law of Household Linens.
HOUSEHOLD linens grow more important each passing season. The linen closets of the old-fashioned housewives concealed a valuable amount of double and single bed sheets, towels, and tablecloths. There are the lovely embroidered dolly sets, runners, and luncheon squares. The covers to fit the tops of the Greek cross sets, the washings of the Chinese sets, the grass linen, the peasant sets, the Madeira sets and those of the native Philippines.

ODD FACTS
Names instead of dates are used by motor car manufacturers. This is done to distinguish their different models. The object is to prevent being "dated" to their own age.

Avoid Poorly Balanced Breakfasts

That's Where the Great Dietary Mistake is made. YOU feel tired, hungry, "fagged" hours before lunch. Don't go to the conclusion of poor health. You have unenergetic mornings because they start the day with unbalanced breakfasts.

To feel right, you must have a well-balanced, complete breakfast. Eat the most other meal—lunch and dinner—on a full stomach. But breakfast is a hurried meal, often badly chosen.

Children's Bedtime Story

Reddy Fox Finds Nothing

To fool the clever is a toy.
For wit against wit you must employ.
—Mocker the Mocking Bird.

REDDY FOX was hungry. This wasn't at all uncommon. In winter Reddy is hungry most of the time. It is only once in a very great while that he has a chance to eat all he can get. When this does happen, of course, for a day or two he isn't hungry. But Reddy isn't one to complain, even when an empty stomach keeps him trotting day and night looking for something to put in it. He just makes the most of that wonderful nose of his and those sharp eyes of his and those keen ears of his. He doesn't mean to miss a chance through heedlessness or carelessness on his part.

On this particular morning Reddy was working along the edge of the Green Forest near where it joins Farmer Brown's Old Orchard. Reddy had a particular reason for hunting there. The last time he had been that way he had seen the tracks of two or three Pheasants. Now, if there is anything that particularly delights Reddy, it is a Pheasant for dinner. He would go a long way and he would run almost any risk to catch a Pheasant. It isn't often that he can do it. But once in a while he can, so he feels that it is always worth while taking a chance.

This morning, as he worked along up the edge of the Green Forest, he heard far ahead of him a sound that caused him to stop short and prick up his ears. My, such an eager look as there was in Reddy's eyes as he cocked those two black ears and listened. There it was again! There was no mistake about it. No, sir, there was no mistake about it. A cock Pheasant had crowed somewhere up ahead of him.

You should have seen Reddy Fox steal up along the edge of the Green Forest. Always his black ears were cocked forward. He crouched as low as he could and he took advantage of every little bush and every little mound of snow, creeping behind them and peeping around before he would move ahead. Of course, he made no noise. On the snow those little black feet of his could move rapidly without a sound. The nearer he got to the place where he thought that Pheasant was, the more careful he was in all his movements. At last he paused by a little pile of brush. Not very far beyond this was that Pheasant; he was sure. He would wait for that Pheasant to crow again.

Reddy didn't have to wait long. In fact, he had to wait only a moment or two. Then he heard that Pheasant crow, and by the sound he was sure it was just around the other side of that little pile of brush. You should have seen Reddy creep around that brush! He crouched so close to the snow that his coat actually dragged on the snow. He would take a step and then pause to listen. Then he would take another step and pause. Pretty soon he was where he could poke his nose around. You should have seen with what care he did it. Slowly, slowly, that little black nose was poked around until at last he could see with one eye the ground beyond that little pile of brush.

There were some bushes there, but—look as he would—he could see nothing of that Pheasant.

"He must have run," thought Reddy. "Yes, sir, that is what he must have done. But he can't have run but a very little way. There hasn't been time since he crowed last."

So Reddy began to move a little faster, but he was just as cautious and just as careful as ever. He was all prepared to make a swift jump to catch that Pheasant. And then he heard that crowing once more. This time it was up above his head. He looked up. There sat Mocker the Mocking Bird. "Good morning," said Mocker. "How do you like my imitation of Mr. Pheasant's voice?"

You Should Serve

PHEASANTS with pork; the next choice is carrots or turnips.

Diced pork, celery, chopped olives and red peppers as a mock chicken salad.

A green salad—lettuce, water cross, endive, celery or escarole, with French dressing with roast beef.

Toasted crackers and cheese occasionally in place of dessert.

Cheese sauce with rice, hominy or macaroni croquettes.

Prune snowballs (prunes and rice), with a custard sauce for a delicious dessert.

Onion sauce with boiled rabbit and bread, or brown sauce with roast rabbit.

Bathing.

How the dirt can gather
On a busy boy!
It takes a lot of lather
And mighty little joy.

To clean up nights,
And mother has to scrub.
After falls and fights
It hurts when you rub.

I hope when I am grown
I can do without it,
Or, leastwise bathe alone
And not be long about it.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

Quest.

A HOST of life's most wanted things hold little lure for me, great wealth would slip the spirit's wings, and I must first be free! Wise men have worn their lives away for fame which fleetly goes, a thing that lives its passing day and withers like the rose; while some drink deep at learning's well, the rarest wine of time, and subject to its potent spell, they call the draught sublime. But not for these my quest is made, to these I do not turn; for gold can make a man afraid, fame's fire may sear and burn. But one most rare and lovely thing my hungry heart demands, a source from which all good must spring, a friend who understands. And so I go unsatisfied until my groping hands clasp those of him worth all beside, a friend who understands.

Mrs. Wm. B. Winn, of 3821a Humphrey Street, says:

Makes week's wash whiter than ever with half the work—and lengthens life of clothes!

Even in the hardest water, this new kind of soap soaks clothes cleaner than you could rub them

WITH absolute safety to clothes—and even in the hardest water—millions of women now get their family wash cleaner, whiter and sweeter than ever—in half the time—without putting their hands to a washboard!

No more scrubbing the life out of clothes! No more parboiled washday hands. Just soak the wash in Rinso suds overnight, or an hour or two in the morning. Then rinse—and the dirt floats away. Your week's wash has been soaked immaculately clean. Even the most soiled spots need only a few gentle rubs between the fingers to make them snowy white!

Goodbye old-time bar soap!

Rinso is a new kind of rich, mild soap—granulated. You need no special soaps, powders or softeners, for Rinso itself acts as a softener. Simply use enough Rinso to give creamy, lasting suds. Rinso loosens the ground-in dirt and stains. Great for boiling, though boiling isn't necessary as soaking in Rinso whitens better than boiling—sterilizes, too!

Fine for washing machines

If you use a washing machine, you'll find that Rinso makes the clothes snowy-white in less time than ever. Recommended for its safety and for a cleaner wash by 23 leading washing machine manufacturers.

Saves hands—saves clothes

No laundry soap is easier on hands or safer to use than Rinso. You could soak your finest white table cloth in Rinso for days without harm, for it contains no acids, harsh chemicals or bleaches—nothing to injure white clothes or fast colors. Clothes last much longer with Rinso for it ends washboard scrubbing—the great cause of clothes wearing out. Get Rinso for small cost from your grocer. Follow directions on package.

Rinso
The Granulated Soap that Soaks Clothes Whiter
No Scrubbing
Guaranteed by the makers of Lux
Lever Bros. Co.

"I have been keeping house a good many years and have raised a large family. It was necessary for me to keep on the lookout for something that would quickly, economically and safely wash our clothes. I found Rinso answered every requirement. Rinso is a good water softener too. Colored clothes come out of the wash seemingly with the colors reset, and the white clothes are always perfectly clean. Dissolve a small quantity of Rinso in water and you have a liquid that saves hand-rubbing bar soap, with all its inconveniences."
